Secretary of Labor Enters Steel Talks

Ohio Lawmakers Working to End Session Friday

Senate Approves Measures Creating 2 New Departments

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio lawmakers, already in session more than 6½ months, may leave the Capitol for good Friday, if:

The House and Senate can reach a peaceable settlement on two key bills to distribute more than 20 million dollars in new school subsidy money and to liberalize state benefits to injured workers.

The long-hoped-for end to the Legislature's working sessions loomed as a large possibility late this week after the Senate virtually completed action on bills to create two new state departments and enlarge membership of the Racing Commission.

The Senate passed House-approved bills to create the Department of Industrial and Economic Development and the Department of State Personnel. The latter will take the place of the present State Civil Service Commission.

The Racing Commission reorganization will increase membership from four to five, switching it from a bi-partisan to a partisan (3-2) commission.

2½ Hour Conference

On the basis of a 2½-hour conference Monday with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, legislative leaders appeared to be in a mood to make quick work of a formal compromise on the schol foundation bill.

But the Senate's labor-minded members appeared unwilling to bow to the House on a hotly controversial bill to increase workmen's compensation benefits.

The House, after weeks of wrangling, adopted a benefit level of $49 a week against the present $40.25. The Senate Commerce and Labor Committee boosted that figure Tuesday night to $52.50 with expectations a conference committee might compromise on $51 a week.

During the course of the day, legislators struck down two attempts to raise their own pay.

In the House, a move went down to defeat which would have given each lawmaker a $10-a-day allowance for attending sessions.

On the Senate side, Democrats and a few Republicans beat down a move which would have increased legislators' salaries from $5,000 to $6,000 a year, effective next January.

Allied Powers Awaiting Reply From Russians

No Concession Seen On German Question; Big 3 Meet Secretly

GENEVA (AP)—Andrei Gromyko is expected to give the Soviet answer today to the Western demand that he cut his price for a truce over Berlin. His speech could decide the fate of the Big Four conference.

Some Communist informants hinted that the Soviet foreign minister might back down slightly from his insistence that the West grant Communist East Germany equality with West Germany by creating an all-German committee to negotiate on unification.

Alternatively, he might try to stave off a final showdown by suggesting some new approach to the whole problem and calling for a further study of the possibilities of a compromise.

Top Western officials said they had no indication that any Soviet concession was in the making. In a 90-minute secret talk Tuesday with the three Western foreign ministers, Gromyko refused to budge from the Soviet insistence on giving the East German equal status with the West-Germans.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville pressed Gromyko repeatedly to discuss the Western counterproposal for a continuing Big Four conference on unification with East and West Germans sitting in as advisers.

They also tried to find out whether Gromyko would be willing to put his own committee proposal aside and give first priority to a Big Four deal to remove the Communist threat to West Berlin.

Western diplomats said Gromyko dodged and avoided direct answers, saying, "You know my position." Lloyd reportedly denounced Gromyko's tactics in a brief angry clash.

All three Western ministers told Gromyko they intend to break off the conference soon unless they begin to make progress toward an agreement. Herter had given him a similar warning on Monday.

Mitchell Named As Fact-Finder For Eisenhower

Move Is Without Precedent; Mediation Will Be Continued

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has entered the week-old steel strike.

He will act as fact-finder for President Eisenhower, who reportedly is reluctant to intervene in the process of collective bargaining.

Mitchell's move is without precedent. He said he knows of no other secretary of labor who has acted in a similar manner.

It is expected that the White House will use the information he provides as a basis for deciding whether to invoke the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Under Taft-Hartley, the federal government could issue an 80-day antistrike injunction if necessary. But it was felt this would accomplish little at this time.

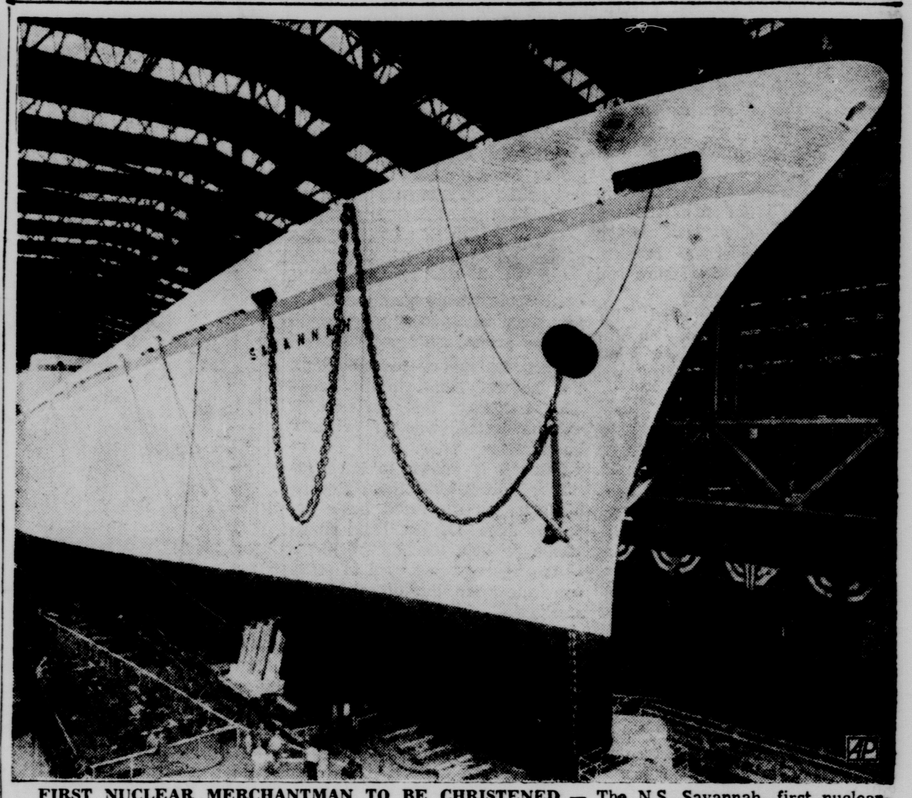

Both sides appear to be dug in for a long struggle. Eisenhower reportedly feels that the 80-day cooling-off period would not change their positions although he has not ruled out the possibility of invoking Taft-Hartley.

The United Steelworkers Union strike has idled a half million workers in basic steel and shut down nearly 90 per cent of the nation's steel production. Another 45,500 workers in such allied fields as coal, railroads and trucking also have been idled as a result of the strike.

Vital defense projects, however, have been assured of enough steel to last until September, federal officials reported Tuesday.

The union seeks a 15-cent-hourly annual package increase, claiming that the industry can afford it without raising the price of steel. The industry has refused, claiming that any increase in labor cost would force a price increase, and

Increase Will Bring Wage Boosts

U.S. Cost of Living Rises to Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living rose four-tenths of 1 per cent in June to a record high.

This was the largest monthly increase in 14 months.

Announcing the rise, a measured by its consumer price index, the Labor Department said today that all major items in the living costs of city families advanced.

However, Commissioner Ewan Clague of the Bureau of Labor Statistics told newsmen the upsurge of prices was "not a sign that the index is about to take off."

He said the increase was largely seasonal, due to a sharp advance in foods, chiefly fresh fruits and vegetables.

The rise took the price index to 124.5 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is six-tenths of 1 per cent higher than a year ago.

The increase will mean wage boosts of 1 or 2 cents an hour for about 600,000 workers whose union contracts have escalator clauses calling for periodic adjustments of wages to the cost of living.

About 200,000 men in the trucking industry and 100,000 workers in aircraft plants will receive a 2-cent hourly increase. About 230,000 electrical manufacturing workers and some employes in other industries will get boosts averaging about 1-cent an hour.

The BLS also reported that the spendable earnings of factory workers — take-home pay after deduction of income and social security taxes — reached a new record in the month.

But the purchasing power of the pay checks declined because of the rise in prices, and was slightly below the all-time records set in May.

Average take-home pay for the single man in factory employment was $73.66 a week, BLS reported, and for the worker with three dependents it was $81.21. The comparable figures last

7 Crewmen Die In Plane Crash

State Trooper Sees Craft Fall to Earth

ANDOVER, N.H. (AP)—An Air Force plane crashed in flames and all seven crewmen perished early today.

Officers at Pease Air Force Base from which the plane was flying on a routine training mission said all seven bodies were recovered.

The victims were not identified, pending notification of next of kin.

The craft was identified as a KC97 propeller-driven tanker plane.

The crewmen of a companion plane flying a mile to the rear and a state trooper on the ground said they saw the plane plummet in flames through an overcast.

The plane struck down near a saw mill on the farm of Bud Keyser about a mile and a half south of the village of Andover in south-central New Hampshire.

State trooper Joseph Humphrey said he was checking cottages just before 2 a.m. about three miles away when he saw the burning plane come down through an overcast.

He rushed to the scene but found all personnel aboard dead.

The Air Force listed the victims as:

Capt. James H. White, Cambridge, Mass., 1st Lt. Harold C. High, Duluth, Minn.; 1st Lt. Dean H. Holzworth, Worland, Wyo.; Sgt. Marion C. Ackerman, Vevay, Ind.; A.3C. Phillips K. Daret, Norman, Okla.; T.Sgt. Owen Q. Combs, Blomfield, Ind., and T. Sgt. Jake Schmidt, Riverton, Wyo.

Wheat Referendum Vote Set Thursday

LISBON — A total of 2,370 wheat allotment notices were mailed to county farmers July 13; and of this number, all farmers who will plant over 15 acres of wheat in 1960 are eligible to vote in marketing quota referendum Thursday, the Columbiana County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

The polling place in the ASC office in the Farmers National Bank will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Two-thirds of those voting must approve market quotas if they are to be continued. Those choosing to stay within their allotment will be eligible for price support which will be not less than 75 per cent of parity or about same as last year.

The referendum last year was held in June when only 16 of approximately 100 eligible farmers voted. The vote was 12-4 against the referendum in the county.

Lisbon Board Buys Freezer

Discussion Held On Polio Inoculations

LISBON — The Village Board of Education Tuesday night approved the installation of a walk-in refrigerator-freezer at the Lincoln School at a cost of $3,185.

The freezer will be bought under a lease agreement covering a period of two years and will be paid for out of cafeteria profits.

The Raffel Bros. firm of Youngstown was awarded the contract.

A discussion was held on polio inoculations which were made compulsory for children entering school by a recent state law. Board members will arrange with the County Health Department to conduct a polio clinic at which inoculations will be administered.

The members agreed to make a survey as soon as possible after school starts to ascertain whether all the children have received the inoculation.

The board confirmed the appointment of Robert Theiss, 25, of 560 Euclid Ave., Salem, as a physical education teacher and science teacher.

He will also be assistant coach in football, basketball and baseball. A graduate of Western Reserve University, he attended Ohio State University last year and completed two-thirds of his work on his masters degree.

A contract to supply coal for the 1959-1960 school year will be let at the board's meeting Sept. 15, it was decided.

The board approved the attendance at Lisbon High School of Paul Kosower, a resident of Leetonia

Massillon 'Rebels' Continue Clean-Up

Raid Uncovers 21 Tons Of Gambling Equipment

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Massillon's police raiders, continuing an unrelenting war on gambling, raided a warehouse Tuesday night and found what they described as at least 21 tons of gambling equipment.

The equipment allegedly included baseball pool tickets, tip boards and other such materials. More than 41 tons of confiscated equipment has piled up since July 1.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Ted George, identified by police as the owner of the warehouse. Authorities said George was reported out of town.

Unofficial estimates said the 21 tons of equipment may be worth as much as $40,000. Some 20 tons confiscated in a similar raid a week ago was valued at $25,000.

The raiding party of 13 included nine off-duty officers and three on-duty officers who are members of a group that has launched a series of gambling raids without telling superiors what is going on. The 13th man is not a regular member of the group.

The Stark County Grand Jury heard testimony Tuesday from some of the 15 policemen who have been conducting the so-called "rebel" raids.

Prosecutor Norman J. Putnam said the men were subpoenaed "concerning felony charges." He did not elaborate.

The latest episode in the gambling war came Tuesday when blackmail charges were filed by the father of one of the policemen. Ivan B. Ilg, who operates a tavern and whose son, William, is one of the raiders, filed the charges against Michael Miljanich, a cigar store operator.

Miljanich recently was fined for possessing gambling equipment. The blackmail petition alleges Miljanich "threatened to expose Ilg's moral activity" unless his son quit taking part in the raids.

Miljanich was freed under $1,000 bond after denying the charge. A preliminary hearing was set for July 27 in Municipal Court.

There were indications testimony before the grand jury related to the blackmail charges. While waiting to testify, the officers said they would tell the truth about gambling in Massillon and would continue the raids.

Miljanich's cigar store was ordered padlocked Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge John Rossetti. The store had been raided last month—before the off-duty raiding began. A quantity of gambling equipment was confiscated at that time.

House Upholds DiSalle Veto of Firemen's Bill

By DUANE E. CROFT
News Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS — Despite last ditch efforts by backers of the bill, the Ohio House Tuesday upheld Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's veto of the 56-hour week for municipal firemen.

The vote was 67-56 for overriding the governor's objections, but 84 "yeas" were needed.

Attacking DiSalle's contention that the bill violated the home rule principle, Rep. John Andrews (D-Stark) argued that when "The cities do not act, the state has the prerogative to act."

Rep. Thomas Barrett (D-Mahoning) a sponsor of the measure, told the House the 56-hour week would result in more efficient fire service for cities and would therefore reduce insurance rates for residents.

But two Republicans supported the governor's stand.

Rep. Kenneth Robinson (R-Marion) said some 61 communities in Ohio would be faced with heavy financial burdens under the measure. He said the problem is one that should be answered locally.

Rep. Kenneth Creasey (R-Delaware) denied charges that the people who oppose the bill are "stingy."

"They believe that working conditions and hours and salaries of municipal employes are not the business of the state, but their own

Steelworkers Haven't Felt Strike Pinch

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The nationwide steel strike entered its second week today but most steelworkers have yet to feel any pinch in the pocketbook.

Many drew full two-week paychecks Tuesday and others have similar pays coming. In another two weeks, most steelworkers will collect three or four more days' pay for work up to the strike July 15.

Steelworkers also may draw two weeks vacation pay if they wish.

Cars parked bumper-to-bumper Tuesday as U.S. Steel Corp. paid off some 10,000 employes at its nearby Homestead works.

In addition to the 500,000 striking United Steelworkers, the shutdown has idled some 45,500 workers in allied industries. Hardest hit are railroads, coal mines, truckers and Great Lakes shippers.

In Cleveland, a spokesman for 18 trucking firms which haul steel said 500 more truck drivers were laid off Tuesday. That brought the total to 1,000. Some 100 truckers were idled in Pittsburgh.

Barking Dog's Owner Fined $50 In Lisbon

LISBON — Dean Senanefes of 579 E. Washington St. was fined $50 and costs Tuesday evening at a hearing in Mayor John Todd's court, for keeping a dog which created a disturbance by its barking.

Senanefes was fined $5 and costs May 18 on a similar charge.

Six residents in vicinity of Senanefes' Tavern on E. Lincoln Way filed the charge.

City Levy Certified To Election Board

City Council today certified a resolution to the County Election Board at East Liverpool asking a vote at the Nov. 3 general election on a $350,000 bond issue to finance a citywide storm sewer project.

The resolution carries an estimate from County Auditor Kenneth Bell that a levy of fifty-five hundredths of a mill would be required to retire the issue, plus interest, over a 25-year period.

Council approved a resolution on July 8 to place the issue on the November ballots.

The issue, if approved, will finance the extension of the sewer system to areas where drainage problems exist and relieve overloaded sewers.

The project would encompass approximately 439 additional acres.

Geologist Says Earth Is Settling

Holes Cropping up In California Community

JACUMBA, Calif. (AP) — This town is goin' down.

Not downhill or downtown—just plain down.

The 300 or so folks who live in this farming community two miles from the Mexican border figure they're in a hole of a fix. The mystery began a week ago when a small crack appeared in the ground near the town's emergency airfield.

It lengthened to 75 yards Monday and became a hole 150 yards long, 5 feet deep and 3 feet wide Tuesday.

It all but swallowed a tractor cutting across a field. A tow truck had to haul it out.

When rancher Hank Ketchum recovered his tractor, he noticed that water from his irrigation ditch was vanishing down two nearby holes. He had to dam up his irrigation ditch.

A 17-year-old-girl who went to look at it was buried up to her knees when the ground gave way beneath her. She was pulled out unharmed.

Geologist Don Weaver has an explanation.

Jacumba is about 150 feet above an ancient lava shelf. Runoff water from a nearby Mexican mountain range has caused subterranean erosion. The result: the shelf is caving in and the earth is settling. There were cloudbursts and flash floods here two weeks ago.

Weaver says the earth settling could continue for a week, 10 days or longer.

Boy Escapes Injury As Auto, Bike Collide

A 15-year-old bicyclist, Kip C. Vanhorn of 124 Georgetown Rd. escaped injury at 11:30 Tuesday night, police reported, when his bicycle collided with a car at the intersection of W. State St. and Jennings Ave.

Effie C. Broomall, 61, of 1245 N. Ellsworth Ave. had stopped her car on West State St., to wait for westbound traffic to pass so she could turn onto Jennings Ave. After the cars had passed she said she failed to see the boy on his bicycle traveling west and turned into his path.

Police said the bicycle had no lights.

Latest In Strange Series of Events

Ike's Administration Enters Steel Dispute

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration — now that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has become a one-man fact-finder—is directly involved in the steel dispute.

The administration seems still undecided whether it will get in deeper by making public the facts Mitchell finds. This is the latest development in one of the strangest series of events in American labor history.

Just a few hours before Mitchell stepped into the picture he was reluctant—and this is aid on excellent authority — to make any move the steel industry or the steel union could consider government intervention.

President Eisenhower, anxious to have the two sides settle the dispute through free collective bargaining, repeatedly has said he wanted to avoid anything which looked like government interference or pressure.

But his repeated warning to both sides to avoid an inflationary settlement—meaning one which resulted in an increase in steel prices—was in itself pressure and therefore intervention.

The industry rejected the union's wage demands on the ground that this added cost would compel the industry to raise prices, thus setting off an inflationary spiral. So the strike began last Wednesday.

At his June 17 news conference —when Eisenhower was asked if the government could bring out impartial figures on profits and wages so the people could understand the issues—Eisenhower said this was the most intelligent suggestion he had heard on the subject and he would have it studied. In the end he decided against pulling the figures together for the public to see.

At his July 15 news conference he not only dismissed the idea of setting up a fact - finding board but said: "I believe all the facts are pretty well known."

He said all the facts were contained in various government reports and statistics "so the facts are there and the public knows them, if they want to take the trouble to read them."

But the trouble was the public didn't know all the facts because they are scattered throughout the government and not brought together for comparison. Therefore the public isn't in a position to read them.

As it turned out, Eisenhower apparently didn't know all the facts, either, for otherwise Mitchell would hardly have thought it necessary to announce he would become a one-man fact-finder.

When he makes his investigation he will report to the President and after that, he said, it will be decided whether to make his findings public.

Mitchell is known to have expressed doubt that the collection of facts, as suggested by a reporter June 17, could be made public without certain segments of the figures being used to prove one side over the other in the steel case.

He also believed that any government action short of a genuine emergency would badly damage the process of free, collective bargaining.

How is Mitchell going about gathering his facts? "From the seat of my pants," he said. He will have various government agencies give him their facts, and he will go anywhere necessary to find others, he said.

The administration has been under growing pressure, particularly in Congress, to do something. Mitchell's assumption of the one-man fact-finding role is apparently a compromise between two other steps that could be taken.

The President—if he considered the strike an emergency — could set up a fact-finding board under the Taft-Hartley Act and force postponement of the strike for 80 days. But, since he sees no emergency now, this kind of board is out.

Or Eisenhower could do what President Truman did in the 1949 steel dispute: not use T-H but set up a fact-finding board anyway. That board made recommendations which neither side had to accept but which both did accept generally in the end.

What has seemed obvious from the beginning in this case is an administration uncertainty on how to stay out but still get a settlement satisfactory to Eisenhower.

Couple Asks $65,000 As Result of Mishap

LISBON — Two suits totaling $65,000 for personal injuries and damages caused in an auto mishap were filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday by John and Eileen DeSarro of Wellsville.

Bruce West of New Cumberland RD 1, owner of an auto driven by Robert McDaniel of New Cumberland was named the defendant.

Desarro seeks $50,000 for personal injuries and damages and the loss of his wife's services and Mrs. Desarro asks $15,000 for personal injuries sustained in a collision on Rt. 7, just north of Wellsville, Nov. 21, 1958.

Desarro claims he was making a legal left turn when his auto was struck by the defendant's car operated by McDaniel.

Wellsville Man Gets Five Years' Probation

LISBON — Ray Junior Hess of Wellsville was placed on five years probation Tuesday by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

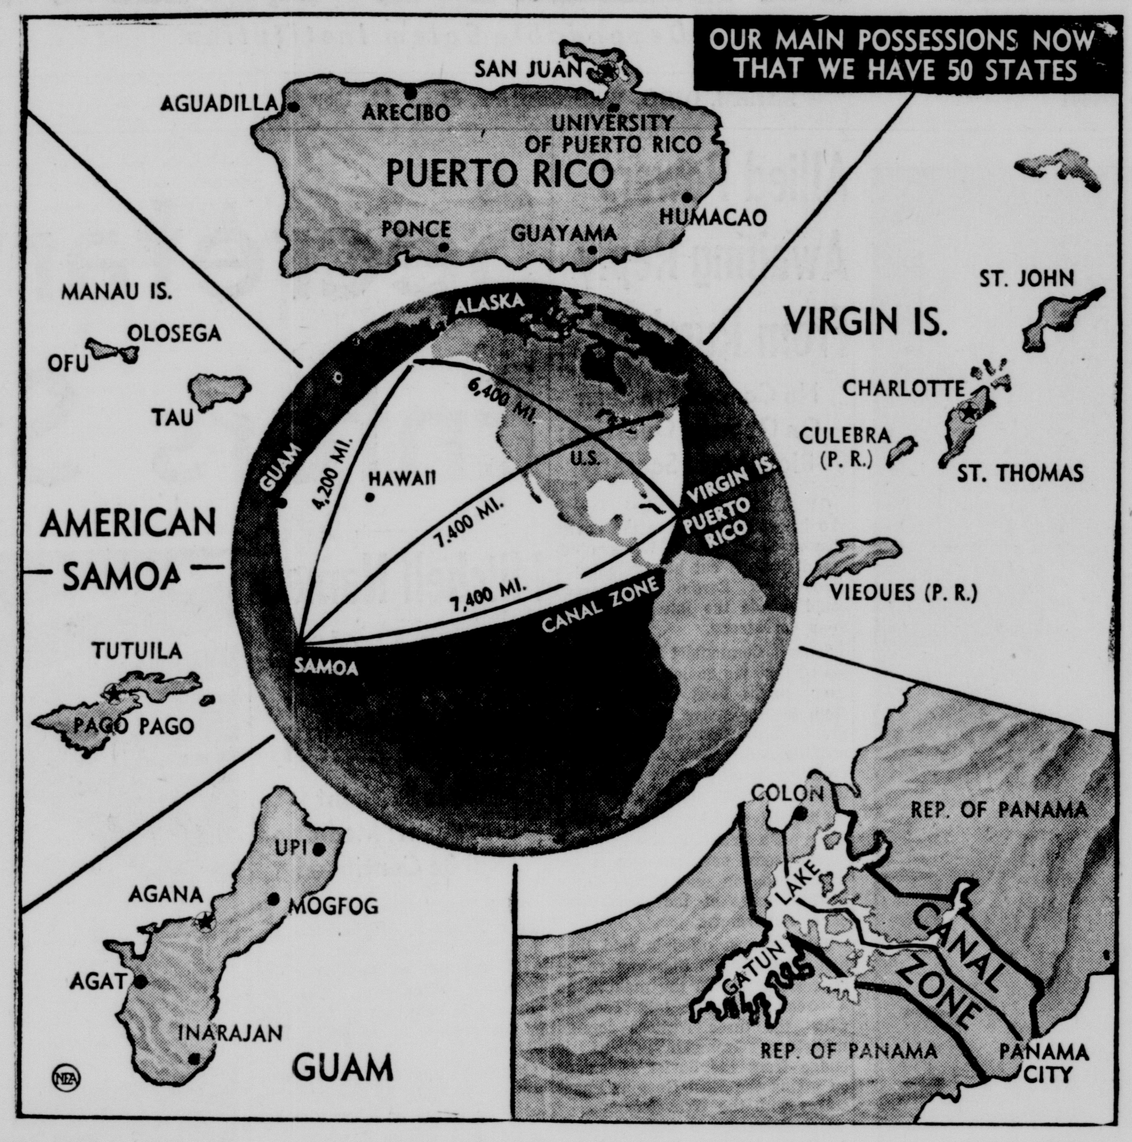

Hess, charged with the robbery of $500, in currency from Clyde Finley of Chester, W. Va., July 17, 1958, had pleaded guilty and requested probation.

Hess was one of three men charged with the crime. William Drumm Jr., 29, of Chester RD 1, and Robert Higgans, 27, of East Liverpool RD 1, stood trial. Drumm was acquitted but Higgans was found guilty of pocket picking and was sentenced to one to five years in the Ohio State Penintentiary.

In Line For Statehood?---

With Alaska's and Hawaii's admissions as numbers 49 and 50, attention turns to other chief U.S. possessions as potential statehood candidates. Best bet is Puerto Rico (pop. 2½ million; 3,435 sq. mi.). Although in 1952 islanders chose commonwealth status—not designed to lead to statehood—sentiment is now changing. The Virgin Islands (pop. 30,000; 132 sq. mi.) have a good chance of becoming a territory, important rung on statehood ladder. Not so with the Canal Zone (pop. 39,000 plus military; 553 sq. mi.) with few permanent inhabitants. Guam (pop. 37,000; 209 sq. mi.) is an has a legislature and appointed governor. Composed of seven isunincorporated territory. American Samoa (pop. 20,000; 76 sq. mi.) lands, Samoa is 2,300 miles from Hawaii.

Cancellation of Trip Is Explained By Soviet Premier

WARSAW (AP) — "When they spit in my face, a guest, why should I go?"

Thus Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev explained the sudden cancellation of his three - week August visit to Scandinavia.

"I only want to go to places where my message can be helpful," Khrushchev told newsmen at a Soviet Embassy reception Tuesday night celebrating his "friendship tour of Poland.

'Maybe I will go later, he added.

"My visit to Scandinavia would not have been a step to peace, but would have led to sharpened tensions.'

The Soviet government sent notes to Sweden, Norway, and Denmark Sunday calling off Khrushchev's visit because of what it termed an unfavorable atmosphere. It assailed Scandinavian politicians and editors.

Asked what he thought about the Geneva conference, Khrushchev replied:

"I think nothing. Why must I think? Ask a horse because a horse has a big head for thinking. We have our minister of foreign affairs. Let him think."

Commenting on U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union: "I don't understand one thing—what is his aim? I suppose he has good intentions."

SUGGESTS 2ND STATUE

HONOLULU (AP)—A candidate for one of Hawaii's two U.S. Senate seats suggests a second Statue of Liberty be built at the entrance of Honolulu Harbor.

Republican territoril Sen. Wilfred C. Tsukiyama, 62, whitedean of Hawaii legislators of Japanese ancestry, made the suggestion at a political rally Tuesday.

Suspect Says He's Given to Sleepwalking

CHICAGO (AP) — Ralph Goldberg told the officers he is a sleepwalker. In fact, Goldberg said, he is especially given to sleepwalking when he slumbers in hotels. But they didn't believe him.

Police Sgt. Charles Fitzgerald said, in the first place, Goldberg was wanted by immigration authorities for alleged illegal entry from Canada.

In the second place, Goldberg occupied a room rented in the Morrison Hotel Monday night to one Frank (Hot Dogs) Lisciandrello, 41, described by police as an ex-convict and a robbery specialist.

And, in the third place, a jewelry convention was being held at the Morrison.

So Fitzgerald Tuesday had Goldberg and Lisciandrello and his wife, Margaret, charged with conspiracy to commit a felony. But to get back to the sleepwalking, let's tell this tale the way Fitzgerald related it.

Fitzgerald was in the lobby when Lisciandrello and his wife checked in as Mr. and Mrs. F. Noto of Los Angeles. They received a key to Room 1242, gave it to Goldberg and then left the hotel.

A band of policemen was stationed in rooms about 1242. Goldberg was snoring through the night.

An alarm clock sounded at 4 a.m. in a nearby room occupied by one of the jewelry conventioners. Goldberg was heard to stir.

At 6:45 a.m. he strolled trancelike from 1242 toward 1238. He tinkered with the lock a bit and then entered—into the arms of detective Raymond Clark.

Wellsville Resident Sues for $25,250

LISBON — A suit for $25,250 for personal injuries and damages caused in an auto accident was filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday by Jean Ann Roe of Wellsville.

Richard Parsons of East Liverpool was named the defendant.

The plaintiff claims in the petition that on June 6 in Wellsville, her auto was struck from the rear by the defendant's car.

16 Key Points Analyzed by State

Sales Tax Changes Reviewed

(Major changes in the rate, base and administrative features of the sales tax law are contained in a bill approved by the Ohio Assembly which became effective July 1. The state Department of Taxation has prepared the following analysis to help clarify any misunderstandings which may persist as the result of the changes). (Sixteen key provisions are included in the study. They are presented below).

1 — ALL PROVISIONS regarding the use of prepaid tax receipts on sales of motor vehicles, which includes house trailers and trailers and semi-trailers, whose weight exceeds 4,000 pounds, are removed from the law. The motor vehicle dealer, instead, will collect the tax from the consumer and will pay such tax to the clerk of courts by cash, certified check, draft, or money order payable to the clerk.

2. — A tax of one per cent is imposed on sales priced at more than 30 cents and less than 41 cents. The other brackets remain unchanged.

2. — The tax is imposed on the furnishing of lodging by hotels, as defined therein. This definition includes every establishment kept, used, maintained, advertised or held out to the public to be a place where sleeping accommodations are offered to transient guests, in which five or more rooms are used for the accommodation of such guests, whether such rooms are in one or several structures. "Transient guests" are also defined as persons occupying a room or rooms for sleeping accommodations for not more than 30 days.

4. — THE TAX ON printing is clarified by including imprinting and overprinting with those types of productions or reproductions of written or graphic matter already included in the tax base.

5. — The exception from the tax formerly in effect for all items used directly in the rendition of a towel and linen service or supply has been changed. The exception in the amended law is only for those items used directly in the cleaning of the tangible personal property used in the rendition of the service or supply.

6. — Sales of ice, sales of brewers wort and malt, sales of wine, sales of spirituous liquors by the Department of Liquor Control, sales of gas-filled dirigibles and repairs, alterations, fuel and lubricants for such dirigibles, sales of nitroglycerine or explosives for the shooting or explosion of an oil or gas well or coal mine (direct use exception still applies), motor vehicle fuel on which a refund of motor vehicle fuel tax is allowable (direct use exception is applicable here also), and hearses and ambulances sold to residents of other states for use exclusively outside this state, formerly exempt are taxable under this bill. Sales of feeds and seeds, also formerly exempt, are taxable under the amended law unless sold to persons who will use these items directly in producing for sale by farming, agriculture, horticulture or floriculture.

7. — ON SALES in which the vendor installs or applies the property sold, the charge for installation is not a part of the price or tax base if such charge is separately stated in the sales agreement or on the initial invoice or initial billing rendered by the vendor to the consumer. The change made by amendment was the insertion of "initial."

8. A definition of premises has been added to the law by this bill. As defined, premises include the property upon which the person engages in selling and also any property which is designated for, or devoted to, use in conjunction with the business engaged in. Thus the sale of food for consumption on property devoted to the use of the business of the seller of the food would be taxable.

9. — "Casual sale" is defined in the bill as a sale of an item of tangible personal property which was obtained by the person making the sale for his own use in this state. Casual sales, except for motor vehicles and house trailers, are still exempt from the tax if the sale is by a person not engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property. The term "isolated," as it was used in this connection, is removed from the law.

10. — The bill effects a change in the status of construction contracts which makes the contractor the consumer of the tangible personal property incorporated into the structure or improvement on and becoming a part of real property.

However, the following sales to construction contractors are exempt: building and construction materials for incorporation into a structure or improvement to real property under a contract with this state or a political subdivision, or under a contract for incorporation into a structure or improvement to real property which are accepted for ownership by this state or any of its political subdivisions at the time of completion of such structures or improvements: building materials for incorporation into a house of public worship or religious education or a building used exclusively for charitable purposes under a contract with a non-profit organization operated exclusively for charitable purposes in this state.

Where exemption is claimed on any of the above contracts, the exemption certificate must be signed by both the contractor and the other party to the contract. A new form of exemption certificate is being prescribed for this purpose.

11. — THE EXEMPTION on sales to charitable and reglious organizations has been changed. The exemption how applies to sales to churches and to non-profit organizations operated exclusively for charitable purposes.

Charitable purposes means the relief of poverty, the improvement of health, or the promotion of education by an institution of learning which maintains a faculty of qualified instructors, teaches regular continuous courses of study and confers a recognized diploma upon completion of a specific curriculum. If exemption is claimed by a church or non-profit organization as described, an exemption certificate must be obtained. This provision does not exempt sales to any organization for use in the operation or carrying on of a trade or business.

12. — Under the provisions of this bill, all exemption certificates must specify the reason that the sale is not subject to the tax. If a certificate is not furnished or obtained within the period for filing the vendor's semi-annual return for the period in which the sale was made, it is presumed that the tax applies.

Failure to have obtained or furnished a certificate does not prevent a vendor or consumer from establishing that the sale is not subject to the tax within 60 days of the giving of notice by the commissioner of intention to levy an assessment, in which event the tax shall not apply. The vendor is required by the law to keep exemption certificates. In addition, if he makes sales not subject to the tax and not required to be evidenced by an exemption certificate, his records must show the identity of the purchaser if the sale was exempted by reason of such identity, or the nature of the transaction if exempted for any other reason.

13. — THE FILING OF an incomplete, false or fradulent return may subject the vendor to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, or imprisonment for not more than 60 days, or both. The change in this area is the addition of the word "incomplete."

14. — The bill also enacts supplemental section 5739.131. This section provides a means of reaching non-residents of this state who engage in the business of selling in this state or residents who subsequently become non-residents or conceal their whereabouts. Such persons make the secretary of the state of Ohio their agent for the service of process or notice in any assessment, action or proceeding instituted in this state against him.

15. — The rate of redemption of prepaid tax receipts is reduced from 3 percent to 2 per cent in the bill.

16. — One change in the use tax, effected by the bill, should be noted here. Prior to the amendment, section 5741.04 provided that if a consumer produced the tangible personal property used by him, the price (tax base) was the usal and ordinary consideration paid for such property.

The amended law provides that the price is the produced cost of such item. It should be noted, too, that the exemptions and exceptions operative in the sales tax apply in the same manner to the use tax and the tax brackets are the same in both taxes.

OHIO in the CIVIL WAR

Sherman House

Gen. W. T. Sherman

One of the few men to turn down an opportunity to be President of the United States and really mean it was an Ohioan General William Tecumseh Sherman, one of the most distinguished Union army leaders of the Civil War.

Born and raised in Lancaster, Gen. Sherman, a graduate of West Point, at the start of the Civil War was superintendent of the State Seminary of Learning and Military Academy at Alexandria, Louisiana, a post he resigned to join the Union army.

His war record was climaxed by the Atlanta campaign where he led one of the most massive and lengthy military raids in history. Many Ohio soldiers followed Gen. Sherman from Chatanooga to Atlanta and on to the sea.

Gen. Sherman succeeded fellow Ohioan Gen. Grant, as a commanding general of the army in 1869. He was the third American to be commissioned to the rank of General, only Grant and Washington preceded him in this rank.

Sherman House, the birthplace of Gen. Sherman in Lancaster, is maintained today as a museum by the Ohio Historical Society and thousands of families visit this home each year.

What Does the Future Hold?

The Geneva conference of foreign ministers is a study in frustration for the West.

Up to this moment, all the compromising and all the retreating have been done by the United States, Britain and France.

Russia has held adamantly to its position. Even the West's compromise proposals have been flatly rejected.

Whenever the Soviet seems to be conciliatory, it is only backing up for a new offensive that will be even more unreasonable than those which preceded it.

Its purpose is to evade, to confuse, to divide. If it is in accord on principle, it disagrees on procedure, as in the case of the West's recent proposal for a freeze on the Berlin issue.

THERE IS NO HOPE of a settlement except on Russia's terms.

Looking beyond the immediate crisis over Berlin, the basic goal of the West is a united Germany. Unification, it is felt, will not only unravel the Berlin snarl but will eliminate the Berlin, the basic goal of the West is a united source of most of Europe's current problems.

But Russia will not consent to unification of Germany on any formula short of neutralization at best and control by Communism at worst.

Germany represents the balance of powet in Europe. Both sides know this well and neither is willing to yield it as a pawn to a so-called peaceful rapprochement.

Without Germany or even with a neutralized Germany, Europe is lost to the West. That is the big issue. The West cannot afford the tragedy of such a loss and Russia will not settle for anything less than it now holds, which is precisely where we came in.

WHAT, THEN, does the future hold?

More talks, more negotiations?

Perhaps—but no permanent settlement.

Will the situation deteriorate to a clash of arms?

Perhaps—but the odds are against it because neither side can win and thus gain the advantage which it is hoping to achieve by negotiation.

The outlook, unfortunately, is for more tension—years more of cold war that at times will heat up to the point of hot war.

This is the prospect we can look forward to unless trouble from the inside necessitates Russian concessions and forces relaxation of the Soviet hold on vast expanses of Eastern Europe.

No End in Sight

It May Be Too Warm For Bohlen

The White House has made no secret of its concern over a possible misinterpretation of its position on Charles E. Bohlen, U.S. ambassador to the Philippines.

But there continues to be a possibility that many citizens who look to the White House for guidance on public issues of this nature will fail to understand what is at stake. All they know is that someone is trying to make things hot for a diplomat named Bohlen.

Mr. Bohlen, a professional diplomat who is eligible for retirement, is being urged to make himself available to his government as an outstanding expert on the Soviet Union. It had been reported that Secretary of State Herter was considering him as a special assistant.

At the mention of this possibility, the Senate remnants of the Republican backers of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy in a savage attack on Bohlen in 1953 came to life and announced opposition to any special consideration for him in diplomatic service.

Their long-smoldering enmity for the man flared so fiercely in 1953 that the Senate leader of the Republican party chided them in a public statement—one of the many forthright acts of fairness that endeared Robert A. Taft to people who thought of him as a symbol of independent judgment in the Senate.

One of them, Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, now is Republican leader of the Senate. That was the explosive implication in a White House press conference which made it sound as if President Eisenhower was turning his back on Bohlen in an intraparty throat-cutting contest.

The President has gone as far as he needs to go to make it plain his sympathies lie with Bohlen in any resumption of the vendetta led by the late senator from Wisconsin, who once directed a vendetta against the White House itself.

This should be no surprise. McCarthy had been removed from the White House guest list long before his death. He and his adherents were anathema to President Eisenhower.

What is surprising is the revival of the vendetta by men who have nothing to gain by it. Charles E. Bohlen is now what he was then—the country's best informed citizen on Russian history, culture, politics and language. It would be shortsighted to lose his services if he can be persuaded to render them to people who put service ahead of political sniping.

Steel Strike Pattern

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Each side in the steel dispute is beginning to look like a weight-lifter who wears too-tight sleeves so he can bust the seams to show his muscles.

Both sides have tremendous power, but if they keep up this posturing they'll be accused of overdoing it.

The steel union and the steel industry in their present strike-shutdown are following their own self-established pattern — a kind of slow, ritual dance which always ends the same way.

This is the pattern: the union asks higher wages; the industry says it cannot raise wages without boosting prices, too. Then a strike. Then the union gets a wage boost or other benefits and the industry raises prices.

That's the way it has been in 1949, in 1952, in 1955, in 1956, with strikes averaging 34 days. And that is the way it probably will happen again.

This time a little self-consciousness was forced on both sides by President Eisenhower who called on them not to do anything which would add to inflation.

He said the public wouldn't stand for it. There doesn't seem much the public can do—if the 10-year pattern is repeated — unless Eisenhower does something. As of now there is no sign he intends to do anything.

Since steel is a key industry—supplying 40 per cent of the raw materials for other manufacturers and products vital to most of the rest—what happens in steel can be expected to set off a chain reaction.

A steel wage boost, followed by a steel price boost, pretty surely will be followed by wage-price boosts elsewhere.

It was just this inflationary spiral Eisenhower had in mind when he asked both sides in the steel dispute to reach a settlement that did not involve a price increase.

Since this plea focused public attention and opinion on both sides, neither wanted to look like a public villain. Both said they would show responsibility.

But the union insisted on a wage increase. The industry said this would be impossible without boosting prices. That's what it said in 1949 before it agreed to a wage increase and boosted prices.

The union suggested industry profits are so big it should be able to absorb the cost of a wage rise without raising prices. Both sides pumped out publicity.

Neither budged—just as neither budged in previous years—and the strike began. But which side is right, which wrong?

There's one way to find out. Eisenhower could appoint a fact-finding board to give the public an impartial opinion. He could do it on his own or by using the Taft-Hartley Act.

Under that act he could force postponement of the strike 80 days while his appointed fact-finders worked. He says he doesn't want to use the Taft-Hartley Act now, that there is no national emergency demanding it.

Eisenhower could ignore Taft Hartley, appoint fact-finders, and ask both sides to cooperate. This is what President Truman did in 1949. But Eisenhower said last week "all the facts are pretty well known."

That's debatable, since so far all the public has heard is conflicting claims.

What probably is puzzling the public most is this. Since both sides have been through this dance time and again—with a big loss in profits to the industry and wages to the workers—why can't they reach a settlement by reason instead of by a test of strength?

50 Millions for Health

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Perhaps this piece will appear to some that its author is against health, motherhood, love, peace and sweet charity. At any rate, so it may appear to the 69 senators who voted for or favored Senate Joint Resolution 41.

It would not appear so to Senators Bennett, Butler, Capehart, Curtis, Dirksen, Dworshak, Ellender, Holland, Huska, Langer, Lausche, McClellan, Robertson, Russell, Schoeppel, Thurmond and Williams, who voted against the resolution. Nor to Sen. Byrd, who was not present but was opposed.

THE RESOLUTION with a lot of gobbledegook about the senators' passion for health and peace, would appropriate 50 million dollars to provide a "National Institute for International Health and Medical Research," presided over by the surgeon general and tied into various agencies of the federal government with concerns in the general field of public health and research.

It would thus tie a sizable part of our public heatlh agencies and money into the World Health Organization, an agency of the United Nations.

We are already quite closely committed to the worthy goal of international health promotion. We are actually a member of the W.H.O. And on the private level, we are members of the World Medical Association, which was organized by the American Medical Association.

It is hard to see what this new agency would add to our efforts in the combatting of disease everywhere.

It would bring us closer officially to the many nations which have abolished the private practice of medicine for government medicine. And it would spend another 50 million dollars which would have to be borrowed or printed.

When the World Health Organization was formed in 1948, Alger Hiss, speaking for the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace of which he was president, issued a booklet in praise thereof.

He might have been reminded that if the Carnegie, Rockefeller, and other foundations would stop making useless studies of unknowable and sometimes unintelligible mysteries of social sciences and spend their funds — as did the Rockefeller Foundation its first 10 years — in promoting medical research and training over the world, there would be better health and just as much peace.

The same might be said for the Ford Foundation, although it has more recently given more attention to that boundless field for good work.

THE REAL END of such an agency as is proposed was spelled out by an ardent welfare-stater from New Jersey, House member Thompson, who would extend these explorations into the underlying "origin, nature and solution of health problems not identifiable in terms of disease entities." Brushing aside the jargon, it means that if we rend aside the social order and set up a socialistic welfare state, nobody would get sick and everyone would be happy.

This was the phantom pursued in the 1920's, when the Rockefeller Foundation turned from its magnificent work in helping medical education the world over and went in for "social science."

Mr. Gates, who had guided well the elder Rockefeller's benefactions up to that time, protested against this diversion but was brushed aside as an old fogey. But if we measure the results of the exploration by the successors of Gates, we shall find how little has been accomplished by this sort of "research" and how right he was in his protest.

Adm. Leahy: Fighter and Diplomat

Few brother militarists can match the distinguished career of Admiral of the Fleet William Daniel Leahy who died of a stroke Monday. The veteran naval officer, diplomat and adviser to the White House was 84 and in the 62 years between 1897, when he was graduated from the Naval Academy, and the present he served his country well in four years, in two diplomatic posts and as wartime chief of staff to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

As a Navy man he was a sailor's admiral—described as a brusque steel trap officer, seasoned at sea and fledged in campaigns dating from the Spanish-American War. His other fighting assignments included the Philippines Insurrection, the Boxer Uprising in China, the Nicaraguan Occupation and World War I, among others, prior to World War II.

As a diplomat, he served as governor of Puerto Rico in 1939 and later undertook one of the most ticklish diplomatic tasks of all time — the ambassadorship to Vichy, under the government of Marshal Philip Petain. With the Germans occupying much of France many threatening political situations were ironed out successfully by the tactful Leahy.

In 1942, when the United States was in the midst of its rapidly broadening World War II effort, President Rosevelt named Leahy to the newly-created position as his chief of staff, probably one of the most difficult positions in his long career. Each branch of the service was pealous of its own prerogatives but the admiral learned the ropes and performed his duties smoothly.

He was always a protagonist for a strong fleet and was the Navy Department's spokesman before Congress for the first "billion dollar navy bill." In this task, he moved so well that he is generally regarded as the father of the two-ocean navy. Brother officers said of him that he probably played a fatter role in shaping the modern navy than any other officer of his time.

In the present day connotation of the word, Adm. Leahy was not a colorful figure but when a job was to be done, and done well, he was a man who inspired confidence in his ability to carry it to successful conclusion. The nation owes a great debt of gratitude to this great officer and statesman.

This is a sort of Summit Meeting on female charms. It interests more people than Summit Sessions on West Berlin. After all Khrushchev, Ike and others never show their knees or put their calves on the abenda.

We talked with a young man who is engaged to a Miss Universe doll and he seemed somewhat fearfull she would win. "If she even finishes second or third it won't be good. But if she finishes out of the money I figure we can go ahead and marry without a frightful handicap," he said.

"How would you like to see her finish?" we asked.

"There are 81 contestants," he replied. "If she wound up in the second division her morale would be damaged more than Casey Stengel's. I might never be able to get a cheerful word out of her again. So I feel that, since nobody who finishes worse than fifth in a Miss Universe battle ever gets much mention, it would make her a good wife if she came up sixth or seventh."

"If she got a photo finish for second would you marry her?"

"I'm afraid not. After all she could always look down on me as a fellow who didn't get honorable mention even in the Stony Creek Rotary Club Man of the Year contest!" he said sadly.

Scandinavian Spunk

Khrushchev Unable to Intimidate Norway

Nikita Khrushchev has failed in his attempt to secure control of the Scandinavian countries for Communist imperialism. He cancelled his carefully planned visit there when he learned that threats were not succeding and that he couldn't intimidate Norway, Sweden or Denmark. He tried to get them to agree to close the Baltic Sea to warships of the West and to bar all atomic weapons and missiles. He demanded that Norway and Denmark get out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

David Lawrence

A letter to this correspondent a few days ago from a well-informed Swedish writer in Stockholm says:

"Khrushchev's invitation to come here after a hint about it a year ago has split the politicians into two groups in the three countries. As the Social-Democrats, with the help of the Communists, have a one-vote majority in the Swedish Parliament, the invitation was approved.

"The leader of the People's party and the 'Rightists' have declined the invitation to attend the banquet for the Russian visitors. Protest meetings have been held already and many more groups will be heard from. Dr. Bela Fabian (of Hungary) is here to let the Russians know that 1956 isn't forgotten.

"The pressure has been on to make the Baltic a rocket and nuclear-free zone. The East Germans have their propaganda in full swing with the object of having all nations facing the Baltic make it a 'free sea of peace.' Of course, the only nation which is in possession of nuclear weapons around the Baltic is Russia and it is not likely that the Soviet Union intends to discard their installations around the Baltic, or anywhere else for that matter. In the meantime, they don't want anyone else to have any.

"What they want is to close the Baltic to every nation except those with a shore line. The result of such a move would be to make the Baltic Sea under the sole control of Russia.

"They started the 12-mile limit without asking anyone. It was not a matter of fishing rights, as in the case of Iceland. It is because they don't want anyone to see their installations. That is why they shot down an American and also a Swedish plane over international waters.

"When the Swedes asked the Russians to help them search for their missing flyers, they chased the Swedes away.

"Another object of the visit to Scandinavian countries is to put the pressure on Norway and Denmark to get out of NATO. That would be the end of their freedom and would later put the pressure on neutral Sweden."

THE MOSCOW government's note "postponing" the Khrushchev visit to sometime later, "perhaps in a year," complains that, "according to reports in the Swedish press," there have been preparations for "anti-Soviet demonstrations and meetings.'

The note points to "he unfriendly attitude taken by the Scandinavian press' and by some parliamentary leaders toward the proposed Khrushchev tour and charges that large-circulation news papers had been "permitted to make insulting attacks on the Soviet Union and the Soviet Premier personally."

To all this, the Premiers of Sweden and Denmark now have replied by reminding the Soviet leader that the press is free in their countries to criticize him or anyone else.

The Swedish Premier said the Swedish people regard freedom of press and opinion as "unforfeitable."

AN EDITORIAL recently in "Dagens Nyheter," one of the leading newspapers in Stockholm, pointed specificially to Khrushchev's speech in Riga, Latvia, last month, in which he demanded that the Baltic be closed to Western war vessels, that atomic weapons be barred from Scandinavian countries and that Norway and Denmark get out of NATO. The editorial said:

"We hope that the Scandinavian governments' duty as hosts will not prevent them from making it clear to Khrushchev that any interference in Scandinavian politics is unacceptable and that they are unconcerned about any camouflaged threats.

"Khrushchev's speech was delivered in Latvia, one of the Baltic states which Russia put under its rule during World War II.

"It brings to mind that the Russian leaders, before both wars, countries with precisely the time after time turned to the Baltic same reasoning that now is being brought to bear against Scandinavia.

"Russia demanded involuntary neutrality, interpreted any rearmament as a threat of aggression, and explained, exactly as Khrushchev is doing now, that 'it is an absurdity to believe that the Soviet Union has any aggressive plans against these lands.'

"These were the very methods used in preparation for occupations and suppressions. . . .

"So far as Sweden is concerned, Khrushchev's speech should be a new reminder of our need for tactical atomic weapons. True, there are groups in our land who believe the opposite, who even believe that a defenseless Sweden would be a security against Russian aggression. If these beliefs become dominant, the risk will become increasingly greater that one day we will meet the same fate as the oppressed and downtrodden Baltic peoples."

THE CONQUEST of Scandinavia is a military objective of Nikita Khrushchev and, as usual, he hopes to accomplish his purpose by "peaceful infiltration." But he has struck a snag in the freedom-loving people of Norway, Sweden and Denmark who have become so aroused that the Soviet Premier thought it best to call off his trip. This is a victory for the free world.

Effects of Tight Money

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — It's harder and costlier now to get the money to build a house or buy a car or run your business. The same goes for running the government or building a school where you live. And it's also true if you want a loan from your banker to take care of pressing and maybe unepected bills.

It means that maybe some homes won't be built and some car purchases will be put off and some businesses will wait before starting or epanding.

The U.S. Treasury has to pay the higher price for money because it has payrolls and other obligations to meet. But some school boards and local governments will put off improvements they'd like to make. And some common stock buffs fear that the higher yields on bonds now may lead you out of the common stock market into the bond market.

How serious will all this be to the economy? Will it throttle a healthy growth? Or will it in the long run stave off more inflation —which to most of us simply means will it keep prices from taking off again on a sprint instead of just a slow creeping pace?

In the financial marts the visible effects of tight money are plain. The U.S. Treasury has to pay 4¾ per cent on 12½ month notes to keep holders of maturing issues from demanding cash. It's the highest rate since 1928. Only a little while back Uncle Sam could get that kind of money for 2 per cent.

Corporations have had to offer 5 per cent or more to sell new bond issues. Yields on the best quality of tax-exempt municipal or state bonds have gone to 4 per cent or more, when 1½ per cent once did the job.

Businessmen seeking loans at the bank pay from ½ to 1 per cent more than a few months back —many now pay 6 per cent.

In the consumer section of the economy—installment and mortgage charges have risen and interest ceilings on government backed mortgages have had to be jacked up because builders couldn't find lenders willing to put up funds at the old rates. Six per cent is now common in the nonguaranteed market.

To the ordinary citizen this means that monthly payments on what he might like to buy on the cuff are higher now than a year ago. Rising mortgage rates mean that home buyers pay more in the long run for a new house.

Increasingly of late would-be borrowers have been told the bank just was loaned up and couldn't help them.

All of this adds up to a curb on spending.

The money managers say this is necessary, that too easy money at the start of a boom would lead to speculation and an inevitable bust.

Outer Ridge Searched for Drill Site

Seismic Shoot Conducted In Sea

Second in Series

By LEONARD ENGEL

ABOARD RESEARCH VESSEL VEMA (AP) — "Vema to Gibbs. Vema to Gibbs. This is shot V-493. Fifty-five pounds, 24-inch fuse, estimated brning time 50 seconds. One minute warning NOW."

"Gibbs back. Roger and out."

"Over the side, over the side. The charge is over the side."

During the past few weeks, the Atlantic north of Puerto Rico has resounded to the explosion of more than $100,000 worth of TNT. Four U.S. research ships were conducting a seismic shoot—the biggest ocean seismic shoot on record.

In a seismic shoot king-size "firecrackers" are tossed into the sea. The explosive charges generate sound waves that travel to the ocean bottom. Some of the sound waves bounce off the bottom, some travel through the ocean floor before being bent back into the water. Listening ships pick up the traveling waves with hydrophones, which provide clues for mapping below-the-bottom rock strata.

Seismic shooting has long been utilized on land as an aid to finding oil. At sea, it's relatively new.

The record ocean shoot by Vema and three companion research ships was part of the first step toward one of the most ambitious adventures in deep-sea exploration in history — the Mohole project. Within a year or two, U.S. scientists hope to drill a miles-deep hole clear through the earth's crust to find out what the inside of the earth is made of. The miles-deep shaft will be drilled beneath the sea because the earth's crust is thinner below the oceans than on land.

We were searching an area of the Atlantic called the Outer Ridge for a drilling site.

The shooting began the morning after the four ships loaded ammunition at the U.S. naval base at Roosevelt Roads, P.R. It went on day and night for 18 days, with interruptions only for other research work or movement of the ships to new stations.

Three ships—strung out on a line 40 to 60 miles long—listened. The fourth ship steamed down the line, dropping charges as it went. Three and nine-pound charges were fired for ships close at hand; 24 and 55-pounders for ships farther away; full-sized depth charges containing 300 pounds of TNT for the most distant vessel.

Shots must be called to the receiving ships and shot times recorded. The depth of the water and the ship's position must be determined for every shot. Explosive charges must be made up and armed with fuses and detonating caps. Disastrous premature explosion can result from a slip — easily possible on a rolling deck — of the crimping tool used for attaching fuses to detonating caps.

Listening is an intricate process, also. Hydrophone cables must be slacked at the right instant for the phone to float free and undisturbed by wave slap as the sound waves generated by the shot come in. Recording equipment must be started, film developed within two minutes to show whether records are being obtained.

Five men are needed for a shooting party, five for receiving. The long shooting runs made for a long day, for there were numerous other tasks to be carried out aboard the research ship. And Vema had, beside the three men in the coring gang, only nine in her scientific party—including two visitors. Even the visitors—an observer from the Office of Naval Research and I, a reporter—were put to work.

Young Cave Explorer Is Injured In Fall

NASHVILE, Tenn. (AP) — A young cave explorer who tumbled 70 feet into a subterranean pit was rescued Tuesday night, seriously hurt and delirious, after being trapped more than two hours.

"Oh my God! Oh my God!" cried Tom Wainman, 16, of Nashville, as he was hoisted from the pit by Jerry Allen, 17, a friend who joined scores of rescue workers.

Wainman lapsed into unconsciousness before arriving at a hospital in an ambulance. Attendants said he suffered a brain concussion, broken leg and cuts and bruises.

Remember When?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell whether you're an old-timer?

Well, you're an old-timer if you can remember when—

Mary Pickford wore curls.

Hatcheck girls suspected you were an international playboy if you left them a quarter.

People who had once met the heavyweight champion still bragged, "shake the hand that shook the hand of John L. Sullivan."

Teen-age girls not only knew what a mop was—they also knew how to use it.

Yale students actually dated chorus girls on weekends in New York City. . . instead of attending the Russian Ballet.

A man who went out without an elk's tooth showing on his vest was considered only half-dressed.

Showoffs wore lapel buttons that said, "Oh, You Kid."

The barber parted your hair exactly in the middle.

Every kid was sure there never would be another pitcher like Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants. (And they were right.

Girls worried over whether to start smoking instead of how to stop smoking.

Men still had equal rights.

Nobody knew what "It" was, because no one yet had heard of Clara Bow.

You cranked your telephone—and your car.

Two bits would take you to the movies, buy a sack of popcorn and leave you with a nickel change.

The height of juvenile delinquency was to smoke a cubeb cigarette.

A full belly was a sign of prosperity instead of a neurosis.

A nation mourned when jumbo, the famous circus elephant, died.

The biggest Sunday thrill was lining up in a cow pasture outside town for a ride in an airplane.

The only self-service customers in a grocery store were small kids stealing from the cookie tin.

Swimming was called bathing.

Bombs were manufactured by anarchists, rather than scientists.

Dogs were named Rover, Spot, Tighe and Bowser.

A family with more than six kids kept its own cow in the backyard.

A man's job was so close to his house he usually walked home for lunch.

It was regarded as a tribute to say of a man, "he's as sound as the dollar."

The only place you could see an uncovered bosom was in the National Geographic magazine.

And the only thing the country needed was a good five-cent cigar!

NASA Orders Redstones for Astronauts

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An Army Redstone missile was launched here Tuesday night on what appeared to be a highly successful 250-mile flight.

The Redstone, similar to that which will boost this nation's seven astronauts on space capsule familiarization tests, darted out over the Atlantic Ocean shortly before midnight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has ordered several Redstone missiles to acquaint the seven space pioneers with the capsule which will carry one of them into an orbit about the earth, probably in 1961.

Most of the astronauts, who are now training at Langley Air Force Base, Va., are expected to take comparatively short trips in the capsule. Redstones will hurl the manned space capsules as high as 100 miles into the air and deposit them a few hundred miles out in the Atlantic for recovery.

Arthur Schwartz, noted compose of such Broadway song hits as "I Love Louisa" and "Alone Together," also is a lawyer.

THE 39th ANNUAL John F. McKarns reunion was held Sunday evening at Minreva Park, with 113 members and two visitors attending.

There were two deaths, two marriages and six births during the past year, it was reported.

The committee in charge consisted of Clem Laughlin of Lisbon, Ray McPherson of Minerva and Roy McKarns of Kensington, assisted by Mildred Murray of Guilford, Evelyn Rogers of Summitville and Floyd McQuilkin of Salem.

Of the 10 children of John and Lydia McKarns who resided at RD, Millport, eight are living. They are Dora Laughlin, Frank McKarns and Ruth Hogue of Lisbon, Lawrence McKarns and Ben McKarns of Hanoverton, Blanche McQuilkin of Salem, Herman McKarns of Salineville and Grace McPherson of Minerva. Earl McKarns and Mayme Williard are deceased. There are 151 living descendants.

Next year's reunion will be held Aug. 7 at Minerva Park with Mary Clark of Mechanicstown, Homer Williard of Lisbon and Mervin McKarns of Hanoverton in charge of arrangements.

THE WARE REUNION was held Sunday at Centennial Park with 53 in attendance.

Newly elected officers are: President, Tom Ware of Wayne; vice president, John Price of Salem; and secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Russell Allison of Salem.

The 1960 reunion will be July 17 at the park. The following will serve on the table committee: Mrs. Georgia Miller, Mrs. Rita Paxson, Mrs. Barbara Price, Mrs .Don Taylor and Mrs. Joan Squire.

-:-

NEW OFFICERS were elected when the Kenmuir reunion was held Sunday at Lisbon with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Tolson as hosts.

The newly elected officers are: President, Eugene Tolson; secretary, Mrs. Camillia Baker; and treasurer, Mrs. J. N. Muntz. Lester Kenmuir, retiring president, conducted the business session.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hyme gave an account of their recent vacation trip to New York.

The 1960 reunion will be held on July 17, the place to be announced by Fehrman Baker and Eugene Tolson.

Miss Faye Stallman Becomes Bride of W. Thomas Stahl

Mrs. W. Thomas Stahl

Miss Faye Lucille Stallman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Stallman of Alliance, formerly of Salem, and W. Thomas Stahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Stahl of Sharpsville, Pa., were united in marriage Saturday evening.

The Rev. Richard C. Hettish officiated at the ceremony in Stephen's Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church in Alliance.

Kenneth B. Kelley Jr., cousin of the bride, was organist, and accompanied the bridegroom's sister, Miss Janet Stahl, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of sheer nylon, fashioned with a scalloped Sabrina neckline and brief sleeves. Ruffled tiers highlighted the full skirt.

A lace and pearl crown held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses and wore an heirloom necklace belonging to her maternal grandmother.

Her only attendant was Miss Barbara Herr of Peninsula. She appeared in a mint green crystallette over taffeta gown in waltz length, with matching headpiece and veil.

R. Eric Wilson of Nashville, Tenn., was best man. The ushers were G. Richard Stallman of Atwater, brother of the bride, and James Evans of Ada.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stallman chose a pink lace sheath, while Mrs. Stahl wore an aqua satin sheath with matching carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Eastminster Hall. Mrs. G. Richard Stallman, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Carol Stahl, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Stahl attended Ohio North University.

They will reside in Kent, where Mr. Stahl is employed as assistant manager of the Marshall Drug Store.

Mr., Mrs. Leroy McLaughlin Making Home Near Rogers

Leroy S. McLaughlin and his bride, the former Miss Joyce Ann Greenwood, are residing near Rogers since their return from a honeymoon trip along the Skyline Drive, Va.

The couple exchanged marriage vows July 10 at 7 p.m. in the First Church of the Nazarene at East Palestine. The Rev. Robert J. Shoff officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Greenwood of Rogers are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence V. McLaughlin, also of RD 1, Rogers.

Tapers in candelabra lighted the altar setting of palms and ferns, enhanced by bouquets of white gladioli, daisies and carnations.

The bride's grandfather, William H. Greenwood of East Liverpool, was soloist and he sang "Oh Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Mary Ruth Estell of Lacroft was pianist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white ballerina-length gown and carried a bouquet of white carnations and an orchid with her white Bible, which was a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Lois Greenwood served as her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Rella McLaughlin, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They were attired in matching pink gowns.

Men in the wedding party were the bridegroom's three brothers, Leonard as best man, and Ronald and James, who ushered.

Mothers of the couple were both dressed in blue with white accessories and wore pink carnation corsages.

Miss Judy Greenwood registered the 100 guests at the reception held at Valley Park. Friends and relatives attended from East Liverpool, Wooster, Poland, East Palestine, Wellsville, Columbiana and Enon Valley, Pa.

The bride is a 1956 graduate of Lisbon and the Ohio Institute of Business at Wooster. She is employed as cashier by the A&P Tea Co. of East Liverpool. Her husband, who attended David Anderson High School, is an oiler employed by the Poland Coal Co.

GOP Women Plan Reception Aug. 6

The Salem Republican Women's Club will hold an open reception Aug. 6 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Letha Astry of E. State St.

Special guests will be Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown of Dayton, Ohio National Committeewoman; and Mrs. Florence G. Morris of Toledo, vice chairman of the Ohio Republican Central and Executive Committee.

All interested Salem women are invited to be present, and invitations have been extended to all Republican Women's Clubs in Columbiana County.

Plans for this event were announced when 35 members of the local club gathered Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Z. R. Taylor of Georgetown Road for an outdoor coverdish supper. Mrs. Kenneth Ossman presided at the business session and led the group in prayer.

Regular meetings will resume in September when the Ruth Smucker House reopens for the fall term.

Personals

Mrs. George W. Rogers of Damascus Road attended the North Central Jurisdictional Seminar at Albion College, Albion, Mich., last week. She was a representative of the North East Ohio Conference Board of Education of Methodist Churches. She attended classes for laboratory school instructors and the youth division. Over 250 delegates from 11 states were enrolled in the school.

Miss Lucille Baker and Miss Lynne Miller of Jennings Ave. spent Monday in Pittsburgh where they visited the Carnegie Museum and other places of interest.

PUSH TRUCK TO BLAZE

KENEDY, Tex. (AP) — Fire caught the Kenedy Volunteer Fire Dept. Tuesday with its truck in a garage being repaired. The firemen pushed the truck, minus its radiator, to the blaze.

The fire burned out a cleaning shop and threatened two other buildings for a time.

Historical Society To Join In Morgan Trek

The Salem Historical Society will join the Columbiana County Historical Association Sunday to trace Morgan's Raid.

The local group are to meet at the Century Market at 12:15 p.m. They will join the other group at Bergholz at 1:30 p.m. for the expedition.

Those needing transportation are to call Lucille Baker at ED 2-4349 or A. T. Crawford at ED 7-6100.

Registration Continues In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Registration—under police surveillance — continues today at Little Rock's four high schools where 11th grade students were scheduled to sign up for classes this fall.

Officers watched Tuesday as 429 seniors registered peacefully in schools which were closed against integration last year. Included in this group were five Negroes who expressed a desire to attend Central High, once an all-white school.

No Negroes attempted to enroll in Hall or Tech, the two other white schools.

Four of the five were among nine Negroes who attended Central under protection of federal troops during the 1957-58 term.

Police said there were no disturbances.

Registration by Negroes at once-white schools does not mean they will be permitted to attend there. After registration is complete, the school board will invoke Arkansas' pupil placement law to assign students to the various schools.

Strike Not Hurting Turnpike Commission

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Turnpike Commission at a meeting here today reported it will not feel the impact of the steel strike until sometime in August.

The commission estimates tolls from steel haulers average between $35,000 and $50,000 a month. The commission estimated overall July gross income will be $2,814,000.

The first of three radar devices to apprehend speeders has been placed into operation, the commission reported. Two additional pieces of equipment will be installed later.

C. W. Hartford, executive director, reported preliminary radar tests at 14 points betwen July 3 and July 15 resulted in 102 vehicles being stopped. Drivers of two commercial vehicles and 17 passenger cars were cited, he said.

Massachusetts factories produce about one-sixth of all shoes manufactured in the United States.

COLUMBIANA

Bus Will Tour Route Of Confederate Raider

COLUMBIANA — Norman Adams of Warren, president of the Trumbull County Historical Society will deliver a running commentary on the highlights of Gen. Morgan's raid over a loudspeaker system to be installed in the bus which will take local residents on a tour Sunday retracing the route of the Confederate raider during the Civil War.

The bus will leave Grace Church here at 12:30 p.m. and the tour, expected to attract hundreds from Columbiana County and nearby areas, will begin at 1:30 p.m. from Bergholz. Many will make the trek by auto. Reservations for the local bus should be phoned to Dr. R. M. Gaver's home at once. The fare is $1.50.

SPONSOR OF THE tour is the Wellsville Historical Society.

Morgan's calvary force crossed the Ohio River into Indiana on July 8, 1863, while the results of the Battle of Gettysburg were big news in the North.

He slipped through the northern suburbs of Cincinnati without opposition the night of July 13, then headed northeast in a running fight which took him through the counties of Hamilton, Clermont, Warren, Clinton, Fayette, Ross, Pike, Jackson, Meigs, Athens, Washington, Morgan, Muskingum, Guernsey, Belmont, Harrison, Jefferson, and Columbiana.

The raid ended with his surrender near West Point, which will be the climax point for Sunday's tour, coming 96 years to the day from the date of Morgan's actual raid in the county.

An independent soft ball team of Columbiana village young men seeks to schedule games with district teams. Call Dean Johnson (IV 2-4474) or Dave Warrick (IV 2-2554) for information. Warrick is the team manager.

ALLAN WHITE, member of the Village Planning Commission, discussed formulation of the body's building code when he spoke Monday evening at the Rotary Club meeting at Valley Golf Club. The code is in the process of adoption by village council.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were Ronald Bell of Green Cove Springs, Fla., Paul Findlay of New Wilmington, Pa., and R. D. Rickert of Boardman. C. A. Burbick was program chairman for the evening.

Pvt. Robert Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Hoffman of Duquesne Ext., has returned to Fort Knox, Ky., after a two-week vacation here.

Highway Department Cites Value

Formation of Local, Regional Planning Commissions Urged

State Highway Department officials today urged the formation of local, regional, and county planning commissions to assist in orderly highway development throughout the state.

"Local officials are best equipped to assess highway and street needs in their areas," Director E. S. Preston, Ohio Department of Highways, said in explaining the need for local planning groups.

Three are only 10 regional planning commissions in the state and but 23 county planning bodies, the Highway Department officials said. A considerable number of city planning commissions exist, but some restrict their activities, officials said.

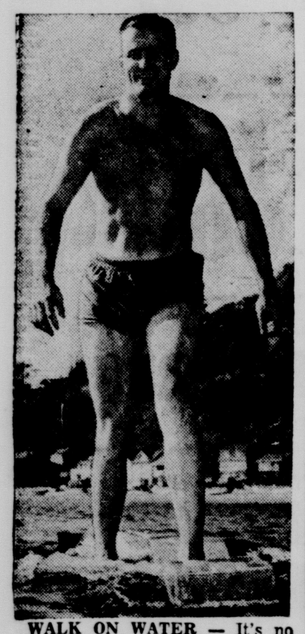

"It would help the Highway Department tremendously in planning future highway improvements if each county had an approved arterial (major street) report with which the state could coordinate its planning," Director Preston said.

"In urban areas, the federal government is becoming more and more reluctant to cooperate financially in the absence of a master highway plan approved by the various governing bodies of the area, the director said.

Besides assuring proper coordination of highway development at all governmental levels, planning commissions could do much to solve right-of-way acquistion problems, departmet officials pointed out.

It is desirable for the state, in its planning activities, to deal with one group, which fundamentally should be a well-organized and staffed regional planning commission, supported by and authorized by the local committees to speak for them, highway officials said.

By this means local planning data is made available and local cooperation effectively obtained. "The regional planning commission must, however, have local support and their plans must be approved by participating governmental units, or the state will be required to work with each individual local government in each community," said Guy E. Neeper, deputy director, Division of Planning and Programming.

Party Scheduled For Tonight at Goshen Grange

As a community project, Goshen Grange will hold a "good time" party tonight at 8:30 in the grange hall. There will be card games and dancing. The public is invited to attend. James Hollinger, grange master, will be in charge of the event.

The judging of baking, apron and crocheting contests was held at a recent meeting of Goshen Grange. Prizes were awarded to the winners and to all others who participated.

Awards in the baking contest went to: Women's division, Mrs. Charles Cooper and Mrs. Joe Herbert, first and second, respectively; men's division, Richard Bryan, first; George Bell, second; and juvenile, Ronnie Rhodes, first.

Entries of Mrs. John Hrvatin and Mrs. Dwain Votaw won first and second prizes, respectively, in the apron contest. Mrs. Robert Hartley won first prize and Mrs. Ray Beck, second prize, in the crocheted doily contest. Mrs. Beck also received first prize for a crocheted centerpiece.

The home economics committee, comprised of Mrs. George Bell, Mrs. Richard Bryan and Mrs. John Kehrer, was in charge of the program. A film on muscular dystrophy was shown by Victor Karli of Alliance, president of the Stark County Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Lunch was served by the home economics committee.

Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Herbert, matrons, accompanied the juveniles to Guilford State Park where they enjoyed a wiener roast and swimming party Monday night.

The next regular meeting will be Aug. 4, at the grange hall. A wiener roast will follow the business session and program. The grange will provide a beverage, but each family is to bring wieners and buns.

Designation Puts Mitchell in 1960 GOP Limelight

WASHINGTON (AP)—His designation as a steel strike factfinder puts Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell in the limelight for a possible 1960 vice presidential nomination bid.

Mitchell is obviously one of 10 Republicans President Eisenhower considers well qualified for future advancement in party affairs — even for the presidency itself.

Of the 10, Eisenhower has named only Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. He also has said that he will not choose between them if they contest for the presidential nomination next year.

While the President is keeping to himself the other eight names on his list, he is known to look with a pleased political eye on Mitchell.

The labor secretary outlined his one-man fact-finding role Tuesday and told questioning newsmen that his reports to Eisenhower could form the basis for any decisions Eisenhower might make to act. He said he would consult with other government officials and even with the disputing parties if that seems desirable. He indicated, however, his studies will be informal.

If the secretary can contribute to an acceptable settlement of the steel wage dispute, he will have gained political stature. If he fails, his hopes for the 1960 vice presidential nomination could nose-dive.

Egypt is about as large as Texas and New Mexico combined.

Polio Cases Up Throughout U.S.

Worst Year Since Vaccine Is Foreseen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States may be going through its worst polio year since the salk vaccine was introduced in 1955.

Cases of polio are increasing each week. The number of paralytic cases is almost double the total for the same period last year.

A spokesman for the Public Health Service released figures today that showed the mounting incident of polio in July.

There were 174 cases, 105 of them paralytic, in the week ending July 4; 179 cases, 111 paralytic, in the week ending July 11.

The spokesman said reports indicate an even greater increase for the week ending July 18.

From April 1, the start of the polio disease year, through July 11, there have been 940 cases, 604 of them paralytic. This compares with 567 cases in the similar 1958 span, of which 282 were paralytic.

The worst outbreak this year has been in the Des Moines area. Iowa had 105 cases up to July 11, compared with 9 in the first 27 weeks of 1958. It had 58 paralytic cases, compared with 4 a year earlier.

There have been considerable increases in polio in New York, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas, Arizona, Washington and California.

Surgeon Gen. Leroy E. Burney has repeatedly urged intensive campaigns to vaccinate everybody under 40.

Steel Talks

thus contribute to inflation. Prestrike steel wages averaged $3.10 an hour.

The fact-finding will not interrupt the mediation that has been going on here in an effort to settle the strike. Federal mediators meet again with both sides today.

Union President David J. McDonald said "the United Steelworkers of America will cooperate with Secretary of Labor Mitchell in his exploration of all the circumstances surrounding the present steel dispute."

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and U.S. Steel executive vice president, said "We have accepted the President's request to use the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service in our collective bargaining efforts. We, of course, will supply the Secretary of Labor with such information as may be relevant."

Mitchell announced his move Tuesday in Washington.

His action differs in several respects from the usual fact-finding procedures. He made these points:

1. That he is acting under laws which empower the labor secretary to investigate labor disputes which might interfere with the public welfare. Uusually the President appoints a fact-finding group.

2. Negotiation and mediation month were $73.49 and $81.03.

By comparison with a year ago, spendable earnings were up about 8 per cent as a result of higher hourly wage rates, more overtime work, and an increase in the number of hours worked at straight time pay.

Food prices advanced 1 per cent in June, the BLS said, and this was the principal cause of the over-all increase since food represents the largest single item in the average family's budget.

Deputies Seek Tiger Hunter at West Point

Sheriff's deputies are searching the West Point area for a man armed with a rifle who reportedly entered a home and frightened a woman near West Point this morning.

Mabel Smith who resides on Rt. 45, about two miles south of West Point, called the state highway patrol at Lisbon, saying that a man about 25 years old, armed with a .22 caliber rifle had entered her home and made some unintelligible statements about "hunting a tiger."

She said he departed without incident.

The patrol referred the woman's message to the sheriff's department.

Cruisers from the East Liverpool and Wellsville police department also joined in the hunt.

AUTO IS DAMAGED

Extensive damage was caused to a 1957 model car driven by Professor F. Gilbert, 59, of Weirton, W. Va., at 10:10 Tuesday when it struck pavement forms in the center of Rt. 45, 3.4 miles south of Salem, the state highway patrolmen reported.

The accident occurred in a construction area where forms are being laid in preparation for pouring concrete.

PIPING AWAY ATOMIC WASTE — These pipes will carry atomic waste two miles out into the English Channel at Winfrith Heath, Dorset. Buried under the earth and sunken in the water, the pipelines will stretch a total of eight miles from the new Atomic Research Establishment. There, 12 European nations are collaborating on the development of a power reactor.

School District, so he can take second year Latin which is not taught until the junior year at Leetonia.

Clerk Henry Dawes was authorized to attend a meeting of the Ohio School Boards Association which will conduct a conference for clerks of boards of education on Friday, Aug. 14.

Beginning Aug. 1, Lisbon school funds will be deposited as follows in the two local banks: Farmers National Bank, 80 per cent; and Firestone Bank, 20 per cent.

Supt. Loren Early reported that after Aug. 19, boards of education will be able to provide insurance for students taking driver's education courses certified by the state school board. No action was taken by the board last night.

Another meeting has been called for Tuesday, Aug. 4, at which time bids will be open for repairing the high school roof.

The special meeting was set so that the low bidder can begin on the roof and complete the job before school opens in September.

Chester Man Bound Over on Check Charge

LISBON — Sherman E. Mikeals, 21, of Chester, W. Va., was bound over to the September Grand Jury Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for passing a bogus check at the Baker Chevrolet Garage in Hanoverton.

The garage owner, Clayton Baker, filed the charge.

Mikeals was released after posting a $1,000 bond.

His brother, Gilbert E. Mikeals, 24, of Chester, and Ralph E. Heath, 24, of Newell, are still confined to the Mahoning County Jail in Youngstown on a charge of breaking and entering a North Lima truck stop. Sherman was also being held on this charge.

Countians Second, Third In Contest

LISBON — Robert Moser, 18, of Hanoverton RD 1, placed second in the boys division Tuesday afternoon in the Northeast Ohio District 4-H Safety speaking contest at the Ohio Farmers Insurance Co. at Leroy.

Sandra Borton, 17, of Beloit RD 2 placed third in the girls division.

Both were winners of the county contest.

TWO AUTOS COLLIDE

Cars driven by Anthony D. Petrucci Jr., 16, of 1274 Jennings Ave. and Arthur B. Booth, 20, of 190 E. 12th St., were damaged at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday when they collided at the intersection of two public alleys, approximately 200 feet north of W. 5th St.

Police said Petrucci failed to yield the right of way to the Booth vehicle.

Considerable damage was done to the right side of Petrucci's car while the front bumper and fender of Booth's auto received slight damage, police reported. The drivers were not injured.

New Alfalfa Varieties Will Be on Display

Testing of new varieties of alfalfa by Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station agronomists will be reviewed for visitors to the Mahoning County Experiment Farm on Orchard and Field Crops Day July 30.

The farm is located on Rts. 14 and 46, opposite the Mahoning County fairgrounds.

Visitors will see new and old types of alfalfa growing side by side.

Poor pastureland improved by liming and fertilizing only and other pastures which were torn up and reseeded with better kinds of grass and legumes also will be viewed. Experiments show that the reseeded pasture is greatly superior to the other.

Tours of the orchard and field crops will start at 9:30 a.m.

Search Continues For Trio Who Took $10,000 In Jewels

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—A statewide search is continuing for a three-man team that quietly robbed a jewelry store here Tuesday of $10,000 in diamond rings.

Only general descriptions of the trio were available from employes of Weaver's Jewelry.

Police said that two of the men apparently engaged clerks in conversation while the third man slipped rings from a case.

All left a few minutes apart. It was about 15 minutes before the theft was discovered.

One man went to the rear of the store. He asked the owner-manager's wife, Mrs. Earl Young, about the purchase of a watch strap. The second began talking to Mrs. Nolan Grooms, another employe, at a greeting card counter.

The third man was at the front of the store, near the diamond display. He was not waited on by a clerk.

Officials noted that insurance on the rings had just been renewed earlier in the day.

business."

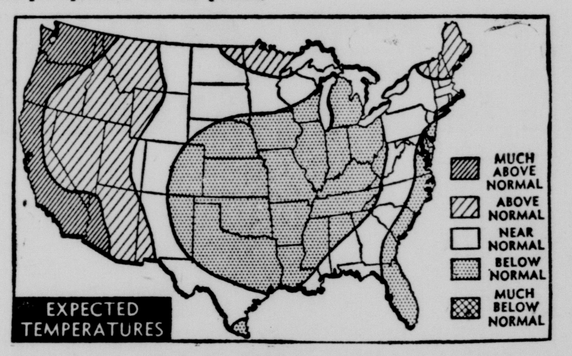

"Do not force added expenses upon communities by edict," he said.

In his veto message, DiSalle pointed out that he personally favors the 56-hour week which he said was pioneered in his home city of Toledo.

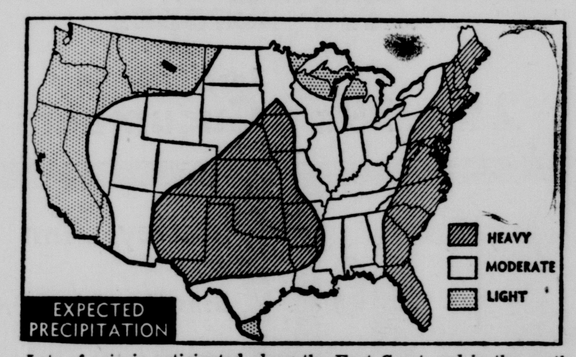

But he said his signature on the bill would be inconsistent with his position that the state should not impose financial burdens upon local governments unless it also provides the means for paying for them.

'Dog Days' Approaching

Weather maps below show the U.S. Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast for the period mid-July to mid-August. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an estimate of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

Temperature outlook for mid-July to mid-August indicates hot weather along the Pacific seaboard, and warm in New England.

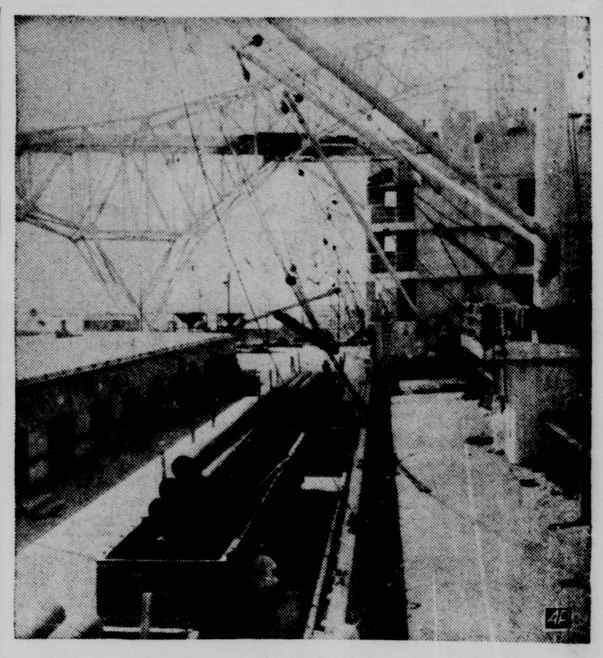

Lots of rain is anticipated along the East Coast and in the southern half of the Great Plains for mid-July to mid-August.

moves Tuesday, the House passed a Senate-approved bill to increase the pay of county officials about 10 per cent in small counties and up to 28 per cent in the state's biggest counties. The pay raises would range from $100 to $5,000, according to population.

House changes will require the county officials' salary bill to return to the Senate for acceptance of amendments.

The Senate completed legislative action on bills to:

Increase pension allowances for school and public employes by accepting a conference committee report which bases pensions on the best five years of covered income an employe can cite.

Reclassify thousands of state employes and increase their salaries at the rate of about 19½ million dollars in the next two years.

Other Action

The House completed action on bills to:

Permit appeals from Liquor Board decisions to the common pleas court where the violation occurs.

Provide state scholarships for college education.

Authorize state purchase of land stripmined before the first reclamation law in 1948.

Require registration of repeating sex offenders.

Create a nine - member Ohio Educational Television Committee to study feasibility of a state network.

Increase the pay floor of appellate court shorthand reporters from $3,000 to $6,000 a year.

Issue No. 1 on the Ohio ballot last November, which was defeated, missed in a House vote Tuesday in a bid to reappear on next November's ballot. It is the measure to permit metropolitan federations to handle water, sewer and other services.

Needing 84 votes for approval, the House voted only 80-36 to accept changes made by the Senate. A move to revive the proposed constitutional amendment is expected today, however.

The House defeated, 60 - 62, a Senate approved bill for school boards to buy insurance for employes.

Mile Branch Grange Festival Scheduled

The annual Mile Branch Grange festival will be held Aug. 6, 7 and 8 at the grange hall.

A hobby show, baby contest and displays by merchants and dealers are among the highlights.

Participation in the non-competitive hobby show will be open to the public. The display will be open on the main floor of the hall Aug. 7 and 8 from 5 to 10 p.m.

The baby contest, scheduled for 1 p.m. Aug. 8, is open to the public, with competition in the following four classes: boys up to 18 months; girls up to 18 months; boys, 18 months to three years; and girls, 18 months to three years. Cash awards will be made in each class.

Entries for the hobby show and baby contest will close July 28.

Dinners will be eserved each evening from 5 to 8 p.m.

suits. Then the girls nervously sat backstage while an adding machine decided the winners from judges tally sheets.

Announcement of the winners' names brought applause from the crowd, smiles from the victors, and tears from some of the losers —who had come from as far away as Alaska and Vermont.

Miss Korea, Kyun Choo Oh, received a warm round of applause when she returned to her hotel. She was voted Miss Personality in the beauty pageant. Miss England, Pamela Anne Searle, was voted most photogenic by the press photographers.

Rip Van Winkle Couldn't Sleep with Nagging Backache

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain —you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief million have for over 60 years. New, large size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

BRUSH WORK—Silhouetted against the Basilica of St. Peter's (background), a painter mounts his ladder to fit a nearby lamp post with a new coat of paint in Vatican city. This spruce-up operation is part of routine maintenance project.

THIS SEEMS ENOUGH OF A HAZARD—Woody Haddon fights to keep control of his canoe as he competes in the White Water Slalom championships near Jamaica, Vt. Paddlers have to navigate 14 hazards in swirling water over a course covering 600 yards of the West river.

HAILING THE 'TOURISTS'—Holding up their harvest, farmers wave from the field at Albi, France, as cyclists pedal past on one of the laps of the Tour de France. Note the mixed horse-oxen team, typical of south France.

MISSILE MOTEL—Topped by a missile model, orbiting signs announce the location of three motels in—naturally enough—the missile area around Cape Canaveral, Fla.

A SPECIAL TREAT—Jean Heinlein gets an earful from an affectionate fawn at the Pennsylvania university in University Park. Jean is feeding special rations to the baby deer for nutrition testing.

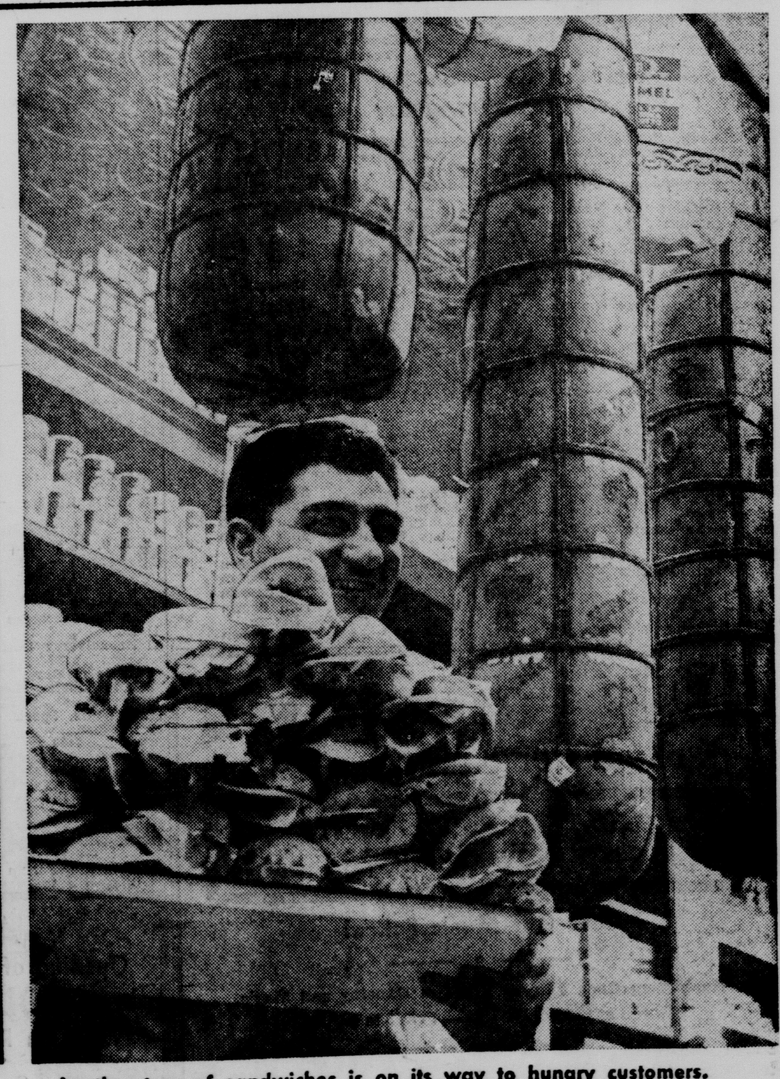

This three-foot-long hero sandwich contains six kinds of meat.

HERO WORSHIPPERS

HALF A LOAF isn't good enough when it comes to making a hero sandwich. It takes a whole loaf of French bread for these jaw-stretching delights, which are crammed with everything from ham to Italian meats and cheeses. New Yorkers jam into such places as Manganaro's grocery to work out on their heroes. Some patrons sit in cozy booths, but the old timers still prefer to eat their sandwiches standing up. The menu lists some 33 basic sandwiches. A real block-buster type of hero sandwich would come to $14.50, but most customers settle for the smaller ones. Usually considered a "take-out" treat, these hero sandwiches are growing in popularity when they're eaten on the spot.

With slabs of cheese and piles of meat, Salvatore Dell'Orto finishes a huge sandwich.

Another tray of sandwiches is on its way to hungry customers.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa

Behind me are huge pyramid-like mounds of gold dust silt. Deep beneath me, 12,000 feet down, is the world's greatest gold supply.

Victor Riesel

Before me, warm and friendly, are feather-bedecked almost nude jungle lads, whooping, beating drums, bird calling, shouting in the shrillness of tropical forest kraals, eager to be friendly, shuffling their feet in primeval rhythm, moving their bodies in orgiastic dances.

These are the gold miners — some Zulus, some Basuto, some Swazi, some from the Congo tropics and Portuguese East Africa. All are part of the 300,000 miners who rip the gold out of the earth, sometimes in steaming water underfot, sometimes in sudden freezing cold.

ON THIS SPOT, and thousands like it along the "reef" of endless gold running east to west across the bottom of Afirca, you back there on Broadway and Wilshire blvd and on all the main drags in between are having your future told. Yep, right here by jungle kids dancing for a white stranger in the hot Sunday sun.

These jungle youths who come in to work in the pits for nine months to more than a year to earn enough to buy a blanket, a bicycle, and who go back home with enough left to purchase a wife or two, are the voters who will control this continent — maybe not tomorrow but soon enough. Lose them as friends and we lose Main st, U.S.A.

I'll show you how fast tomorrow is coming. Only a few hours after the jungle "kids" sprang off an open parked truck to dance — not to beg — for this stranger, I sat in a theater and watched their organized cousins— those who had "detribalized" themselves or were the children of detribalized parents — put on a slock musical comedy.

These performers, Zulus, Swahilis, Basutos, all from the bush people, were real hep. They have gone Western. They danced and sang and laid down lines in their cornets moaned low in the hit show, "King Kong."

THEY ARE PART of three million, city - fed detribalized "natives." In the Union of South Africa alone.

They'll be six million strong city folk in 20 years. They won't just be a multi-million majority in jungle villages. They will be city people, with washing machines, autos, cinemas, and refrigerators. The detribalized natives alone in the 12 major cities will outnumber the whites 2-1, not counting the 30 tribes in the outer veldt.

They will need training, education and respect for responsibility. It won't be easy, for even in the big "townships" there is aboriginal witchcraft. There is evidence of this at the huge modern Baragwanath Hospital where physicials told me that the natives arrive with skins scratched to let the evil spirits out and whose blood shows signs of diabetes because of unknown herbs and potions fed them by witch doctors.

Yet these native workers are part of the 20 million others, speaking over 700 major languages, stirring from here to the Sahara. They feed the lifelines of much of U.S. industry and armament production and our economy itself.

Through these lifelines flow vital gold to bolster our paper money, uranium for our bomb plants, manganese and other metals for such corporations as Bethlehem Steel and Kennecott Copper, just to mention a few.

THE NATIVE workers not only mine the metals so precious to our sheer existence, they help process them, then haul them and load them aboard ships in key ports.

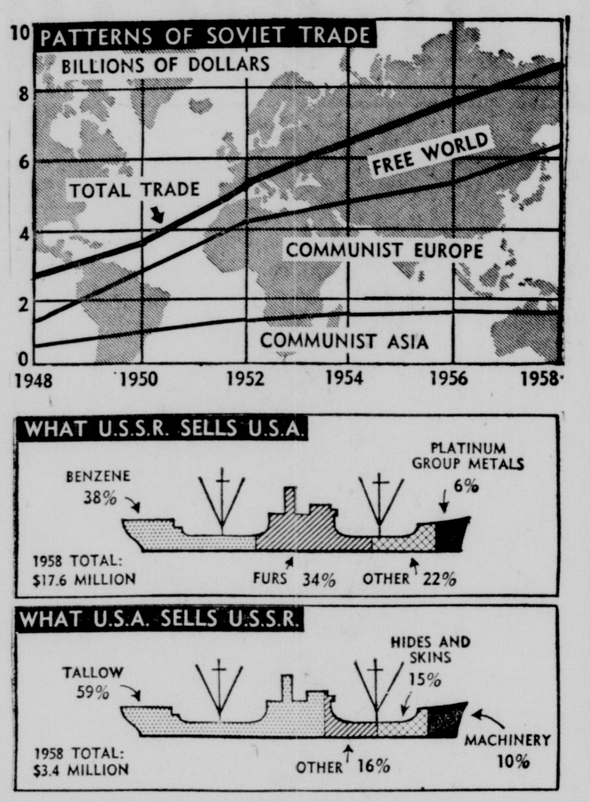

Longshoremen are longshoremen, though here they are mainly Zulus. They dockwallop the piers at Durban on the Indian Ocean some hundreds of miles east of here. They have no unions but they have struck -- in passive resistance. Then nothing moves out of Durban or it could happen in Capetown down below or in the Atlantic Port of Walvis Bay, Southwest Africa, from which uranium is shipped to us.

Training the Bantus, dealing with their leaders and keeping them friends and allies of the West, are not glibly solved problems. Nor have we time to spare. The Soviet Union is seeing to that.

We have more than a continent to lose. Corny as it sounds, civilization stands here with me at these dusty crossroads.

The Russian Trade Picture - - - -

Russian sales to the world have grown from 250 million dollars in the late 1930s to more than four billion in 1958. Import figures for those years are about the same. But her trade trend with the United States has been qute different. U.S.S.R. imports, 33 million in 1938, dropped to $3,400,000 last year. Exports to the United States have also tumbled. Reasons for this trade trend between the world's principal powers are multiple. • There is little interest here in buying Russian goods because other sources have been found. • Domestic industries, particularly mineral industries, resist competitive imports. • Dealing commercially with Russia has proved bad public relations. • Besides the uncertainty of Soviet contracts, the United States wishes to avoid trade that might feed the Russian war machine. • Finally, businessmen are worried about competition from a nation that could copy and market U.S. business techniques and machines.

Guarding Your Health

Trachoma Should Soon Be Eliminated

It is easy to forget how much progress has been made in the conquest of disease, since we still have many unsolved problems and what appear to be new ones are constantly arising.

However, once in a while I should like to devote a discussion to a disorder which is on its way out. One such is what was once a tragic cause of suffering and blindness, known as trachoma.

This eye disease formerry caused a great deal of trouble among American Indians and was common among the residents of the mountains of Tennessee and Ketucky and the farmers of Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota. At last reports it is still the chief cause of blindness in some parts of the Middle East.

THE FIRST SIGNS of trachoma are similar to those of any other acute inflammation of the outer part of the eye. The eye appears inflamed and thickened. Little blisterlike bodies appear around the edges within a few days.

In three or four weeks the thickening and other signs become typical of trachoma and are easy to distinguish from other inflammations of the eye.

The cause of this condition is a virus, which unlike ordinary germs, is too small to see under the microscope. Among the other symptoms, pain and sensitiveness to light may be severe.

In the late stages of this dangerous disease the eyelid tends to drop down and the lids may become deformed. The disease causes scarring of some of the tender tissues of the eye. This is what causes the blindness.

A CORRECT and early diagnosis is of vital importance. Many treatments which are useful in other eye diseases, however, are not satisfactory for trachoma.

Some years ago the treatment consisted in painful and lengthy scraping off of the diseased tissues. Even today, however, if the condition has lasted for a long time, surgery may be necessary.

But the improved outlook for the sufferer from trachoma comes from the use of the sulfa drugs or antibiotics. This is one of the few virus diseases which respond to such preparations. Several of them, whether used locally, by injection, or by mouth, are highly effective, in the early stages of the disease.

By the use of these preparations, and by recognizing trachoma as an infectious disease spread from person to person, it is becoming a constantly less important cause of blindness and should soon be eliminated entirely.

Homeworth

Mrs. Mark Borton, president, was in charge when members of the County Alumnae Home Council enjoyed a picnic dinner in the Jaycee Shelter at Silver Park.

Mrs. Robert Herralf, chairman of the project committee on work for retarded children, gave a report. Officers elected are president, Janice Ells of Columbiana; vice president, Grace Courtney of Salem; and secretary - treasurer, Ida Rudebach of Lisbon.

The women's work will hold its annual picnic at the rustic shelter in Silver Park Wednesday, July 22 at 11:30 a.m.

The Stroup family reunion was held recently at Whitmer Park in North Canton. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Braid.

Indians' McLish Hurls 5-1 Three-Hitter Against Yankees

Francona Raps 3-Run Homer

Cal Gets Mantle Out 4 Times In Row

CLEVELAND (AP) —Manager Casey Stengel fears time may be running out on his injury-plagued New York Yankees in their quest for a fifth straight American League pennant.

"This is the month we should be making our move and it's gonna be difficult with all these injuries," a subdued Stengel observed in the clubhouse after the first-place Cleveland Indians beat the Yanks 5-1 Tuesday night.

Cal McLish (12-3) tossed a three-hitter and didn't walk a man in whipping the Yankees for the fourth time this season. It dumped New York 6½ games out of the lead.

"If it was earlier in the season I wouldn't be worrying about any of 'em," Stengel continued. "It's gettin' late though, and they're catching me at a bad time. Some of my men ain't feeling so good.

Slugging first baseman Bill Skowron, sidelined with another back injury, has been out of action since July 11. Pitcher Bob Turley has missed nine days with a pulled chest cartilage. Shortstop Gil McDougald, reportedly suffering from a virus attack, played the first inning Tuesday night, then was replaced by rookie Fritz Brickell when he felt weak. Outfielder Tony Kubek, who suffered a mild concussion in a collision with McDougald a week ago, also is on the injury list.

Stengel praised McLish, the 33-year-old right-hander who seems to beat the Yanks with ease. "He's a pretty good pitcher. I found that out," Stengel said. He indicated McLish would be one of his pitchers for the All-Star game in Los Angeles next month.

Mickey Mantle, the New York slugger who has been slumping recently, looked woeful as he went hitless in four trips, striking out twice and poppout out the other two times.

"Mantle helped me out by swinging at low and away pitches," McLish said. "They weren't exactly bad balls, but they weren't his pitch. I had the feeling he was going to swing at most anything."

The Indians broke a scoreless tie by tallying three runs off southpaw Bobby Shantz in the sixth. A couple of miscues smoothed the path. Vic Power opened by beating out a grounder to Hector Lopez and continued to second when the third baseman threw wildly. Minie Minoso followed with a double and went to third when Enos Slaughter fumbled the ball. Then Francona slammed his 10th home run—fourth against the Yanks.

Francona now has 16 hits in 38 at bats against New York. He also had a double in hitting in his 15th straight game and raised his average to a sizzling .396.

The Indians added the two final runs in the seventh when relifer Jim Coates issued two bases-loaded walks. The Yanks spoiled McLish's shutout bid on doubles by Norm Siebern and Bobby Richardson in the eighth frame.

SAIDC Defeats Sebring 8-4; Stepanic's Rips Deming's 7-0

Four homers good for five runs gave league leading SAIDC an 8-4 win over Sebring in Class AA softball play Tuesday night at Kelley Park.

Slugging right fielder Roger Stitle accounted for two of the long blows and three RBI's. Jim Barnes homered over the center field fence in the third and Sam Pridon cleared the scoreboard to feature a three-run sixth inning.

Strike out artist Bill Herman of SAIDC fanned 12 to add to his league leading total. He allowed just five hits.

Glen Mercer hurled a two-hitter and struck out eight as Stepanic's Tavern shut out Deming's 7-0. Defensive woes continued to plague Deming's as they committed seven errors.

Stepanic's tallied single runs in the first three innings without the aid of a hit. Two of the runs came across on errors and the other on a wild pitch.

Herron Transfer loosened Farmers' hold on fourth place and a spot in the playoffs by racking up the Bankers 9-6. Farmers Bank apparently had broken the game wide open in the first inning when they tallied five unearned runs.

Herron's, however, bounced back with five runs of its own in the second, climaxed by Joe Hrovatic's two run home run. They wrapped things up with three more runs in the third on Jerry Ball's single, a walk to Tom Dickey and a double by Tom Ehrhart.

Hrovatic, Ball and Ehrhart each collected two hits for the winners.

Fisher's Beats Furnace 3-0

Deming's, National, Salem Stamping Win

League leading Fisher's of Class F got a scare from fourth place Electric Furnace Tuesday night but took advantage of three errors to win 3-0 and remain a full game ahead of Salem Stamping which also emerged victorious.

Furnace pitcher Don Wukotich gave up only two singles, but faulty defensive play by his teammates cost him the win. Rick Sweitzer pitched the four-hit shutout for Fisher's.

Stamping, the only team to defeat Fisher's this season, kept breathing down their necks with an 8-5 win over Sekely. Dave Capel got two hits in two official trips to the plate and scored three runs for Stamping.

CIO 2463 (Deming's) which is finally starting to roll after a slow start, manhandled CIO 1538 (Youngstown Kitchens) 14-2 in Class E. Joe Hiegel had a perfect night at the plate with four hits for Deming's. Although Deming's remains in last place, they are now only a game and a half out of second.

Hard hitting Rick Elliott smashed two more home runs to lead his Class G. National Dry Cleaners in a 14-4 conquest of Petrucci's. John Mason had a fourth inning homer for the losers. In the other Class G game, Joe Rottenborn pitched Eagles to a three-hit 9-2 win over the Italian Club.

In Class H, Home Furniture, aided by a single, triple and home run by Dave Schmid, edged Kresge's 11-10. Rick Royal also had three hits for the winners. Stark's Colonial Attic humiliated Merchants Vending 14-2 in the other H game. Gary Walker of Merchants had the games only home run.

Slaby May Attend Michigan U.; Has Had 50 Offers

Lou Slaby, who won varsity letters in three sports while attending Salem High School from 1955-1959, has signed a tender with the University of Michigan to attend that school on a football scholarship this fall if he decides to enroll at a Big Ten Athletic Conference school.

The husky Salem athlete has received offers from more than 50 colleges and universities throughout the country. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Slaby of 394 W. 10th St., report their son is still considering offers from the universities of Pittsburgh and Southern California.

The agreement he signed with Michigan does not preclude his enrolling at another school outside the Big Ten, they explained.

While in high school, Slaby was an all-state football selection; played for the state runner-up in basketball; and participated in the state finals in track. He was a team captain in both football and basketball.

Slaby is now in Baton Rouge, La., training for the North South All-Star game there July 23. He is also slated to play for the All-American All Stars in Hershey, Pa., on Aug. 1 and for the North team in the Ohio North-South game at Canton Aug. 15.

Membership Drive Set by Boosters

Officers and directors of the Salem Boosters Club held a special meeting Tuesday night to organize their drive to sell patron memberships and advertising for the 1959 football programs.

Club President A. P. Schmauch reported that local businessmen will be contacted personally by the Booster members. He has set a goal of 100 of the $5 patron memberships.

Profits from the programs will go toward promoting high school athletics. Schmauch said the club hopes to reach a membership of 1,000 this year. A regular membership costs $2.

The next meeting is scheduled for July 30.

AP Poll Shows Chicago First

Sportswriters Pick Tribe 2nd; Yanks 3rd

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball writers have changed their minds in mid-stream about the American League pennant winner. The New York Yankees, a landslide choice in the spring, now are relegated to third place with Chicago tabbed as the pennant winner and Cleveland in second place.

Milwaukee, the spring pick in the National League, still is the writers' choice by a narrow margin over the San Francisco Giants. The Los Angeles Dodgers who moved within a half game of the lead Tuesday are listed third.

The facts, as revealed in the major league standings halfway through this year of upsets, didn't support the pre-season forecasts and the AP called for another poll to see if the writers had changed their minds.

Of the 72 votes cast this time, only 11 went to New York for first place. One went to Boston and the rest were almost evenly divided between the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians.

The Indians got two more votes for first than the Sox but on an eight point scoring basis, Chicago had a 526-516 edge. The Yankees, who drew 175 of the 179 first place votes in the pre-season balloting, wound up third with only 445 points.

Milwaukee's edge in the National League point ratings was only 14 — 514 to 500 — although the Braves had a 36-27 margin in first place votes. The Los Angeles Dodgers, generally overlooked in the pre-season selections, moved up to third in place of Pittsburgh.

Muck's All Stars, Farmers Bank Win

Muck's All Stars and Farmers Bank won opening round games in the Summer Basketball League on Tuesday night at Centennial Park.

Muck's routed Stark's All Stars 70-40 and Farmers toppled the O-C Stars 70-56.

Butch Platt and Harry Fidoe poured through 18 points apiece to pace Muck's attack. John Chester, also with 18, was the only man in the double figures for Stark's.

Farmers played steady ball and displayed a well-rounded scoring attack in their victory over the O-C Stars. Jack Alexander was high with 20 points, followed by Jerry Binder, 16, Ken Bosu, 14, and Jerry Myers and Mark Fenton, each with 10.

Ed Agoni led the Ohio Conference Stars with 22 points, making him high man for the night. Big Dan Thomas chipped in with 16.

Pittsburgh Takes 3rd Place

Reds Dump Braves Into 4th Place 12-2

By The Associated Press

On June 30, 1953, Jim Konstanty beat the Dodgers 10-9 in relief when Bill Nicholson scored on a squeeze bunt for the winning Philadelphia run in the 10th against Joe Black.

Pittsburgh beat the Giants 3-1 on June 30, 1953, when Cal Abrams hit an inside-the-park home run and Toby Atwell hit a two-run single. The Chicago Cubs rapped St. Louis 10-3 that day, with Ralph Kiner hitting his 16th homer and driving in three runs.

Konstanty? Nicholson, Black, Abrams? Atwell? Kiner?

That's how long it's been since the Milwaukee Braves last lost seven straight. Cincinnati did it, 6-3, on June 30, 1953.

Tuesday night, Cincinnati did it again, dropping the Braves with their first seven-game skid in six years. The Reds did it witha frolick 12-2 breeze while belting one-time nemesis Lew Burdette and tumbling the defending National League champs to fourth place.

Still, the Braves are within 3½ games of San Francisco's leading Giants, whose edge was trimmed to a half-game by second-place Los Angeles as Roger Craig outdueled Sam Jones in a double three-hitter for a 1-0 victory.

Pittsburgh moved into third place, four percentage points ahead of the Braves, by picking up a 7-6 victory in the completion of a May 10 suspended game with Philadelphia before dropping a regularly scheduled game to the Phillies 4-2. Chicago broke a fifth-place tie with St. Louis by belting the Cardinals 8-2.

In the American League, Cleveland beat New York 5-1 for a .002 edge over Chicago's second-place White Sox, who defeated Boston 2-1. Kansas City beat Baltimore 8-1, and Detroit halted its skid with an 8-1 victory over Washington.

The Dodgers, held hitless for six innings, won in the ninth on a single by Charlie Neal and a double by Gil Hodges — the same pair who homered to get the two-game sweep under way with a 3-2 victory Monday.

Ted Kluszewski, the Pirates' first hitter when the suspended game was resumed, tagged Jack Meyer's first pitch for a home run for the cushion they needed. Roy Face, who had relieved winner Harvey Haddix (7-7), gave up Carl Sawatski's two-run homer in the ninth. Jim Hearn, since released by the Phils, was the loser.

Robin Roberts (9-8) beat the Bucs with a five - hitter in the regularly scheduled game, losing his shutout on Rocky Nelson's two-run homer in the eighth. Bob Friend, who has won but four, lost his 12th, giving up a deciding two-run homer by Dave Philley in the seventh.

Sammy Taylor's two-run single brought the Cubs from behind for a 3-2 lead in the sixth against loser Larry Jackson (8-8). Jim Marshall's three-run homer and Ernie Banks' solo 26th then made it a romp in the ninth. Art Ceccarelli, an American League castoff, won his third without defeat for the Cubs.

Browns Open Hiram Camp On Thursday

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—With their exhibition opener in Pittsburgh less than three weeks away, the Cleveland Browns open training camp here Thursday.

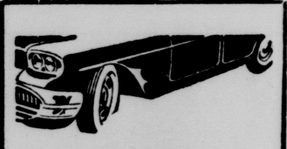

Only five members of the 1958 club are missing from this year's roster, but one of them—defensive halfback Don Paul—may change his mind about retiring and return. End Pete Brewster and tackle Don Colo definitely have called it quits.

The other two missing 1958 Browns are Lew Carpenter and Bill Quinlan, traded to the Green Bay Packers for end Billy Howton, an established National Football League receiver.

It all adds up to a quite limited opportunity for the 34 rookies trying to win places on the 35-man squad coach Paul Brown will carry into his 14th season of professional football.

After the game at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh on Tuesday, Aug. 11, the Browns will return here to train until they fly to California Aug. 28 for exhibitions with Los Angeles and San Francisco. After returning from the trip west, practice will be at League Park in Cleveland.

In this day of Mechanized Farming, Farm Safety is of the utmost importance; It pays to be alert and have everything in order See that tractors, trucks, and other farm machinery and equipment are kept in repair. Watch electric especially in the outbuildings. Be careful about building bonfires. Fire on a farm is a serious matter! Do you carry Liability Insurance, so that if someone is injured on your property you would be protected? Are your buildings properly insured? Do you have accident and hospitalization insurance? The modern farm is like a factory and safety first is given great importance in manufacturing plants, Better Be Safe Than Sorry!

Farm Work Mishaps
Injures 321,600 Each Year

Surveys show that many of these accidents on farmlands and about farm buildings took the lives of young people who were not properly safeguarded by their parents and had not acquired safety instructions.

Foresight now will at least take the sting of financial burden away from these accidents that seem bound to happen!

Ohio Edison Hearing Continues at Mansfield

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Special counsel for the city of Mansfield continued cross-examination of an opinion witness today as a Utilities Commission hearing on Ohio Edison Co.'s appeal from a city ordinance resumed.

The witness, Robert L. Free of the Cleveland real estate appraising firm of Cragin, Lang, Free & Co., was on the stand when the hearing was recessed Monday.

Robert L. White of Cincinnati, special counsel for Mansfield, is reviewing the appraisal of company property, a factor in rate structure.

The company has complained to the commission about a rate-fixing city ordinance passed April 2, 1957. The company says electric power rates set by the ordinance are not enough to provide adequate income.

Scientists Say 'Rain' Is Bug Juice

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The weatherman was right when he said the mysterious moisture which has been falling on Charles Coval's backyard wasn't rain.

It was bug juice.

The phenomenon was explained by scientists Tuesday after Coval, meteorologists, engineers, newsmen and everybody else admitted they were puzzled.

Dr. Rudolph Preisendorfer, research physicist at the University of California, La Jolla, led the unofficial scientific expedition to Coval's backyard ater reading about the mysterious sprinkles in newspapers.

He climbed a tree and found the rain-making insects.

Preisendorfer identified them as leafhoppers, commonly called sharpshooters, and scientifically known as homopyera cicadellidae homalodisia.

They excret a spray of fluid, which the scientist said is sometimes politely called "honey dew," especially when they are disturbed.

The leafhoppers had been keeping wet an area 20-foot square. Coval, a missile plant engineer who has had more visitors than usual since the rain was discovered Sunday, said he was mighty glad the scientists had solved the mystery.

Boy Scout News

Hanover Township Troop 52

Eight members of Hanover Township Troop 52 have returned from a week's stay at Camp Twin Spruce at Leesville Lake in Carroll County.

Five Scouts, Charles Guthrie, Gary Blythe, Ricky Greene, Jim McClure and Randy Starkie, passed their second class requirements and will be reviewed by the troop committee.

Don Mayer, Charles Guthrie, and Bill McGranahan earned first aid merit badges, and Ricky Reene and Jim McClure received canoeing badges. David Karn completed his Tenderfoot requirements.

The troop received the campsite award for two of the five days it was awarded.

In addition to learning new scouting skills, the boys also took part in pistol, rifle and archery events. Waterfront activities consisted of swimming, rowing, canoeing, and skish.

Scoutmaster Donald C. Mayer of Hanoverton accompanied the boys.

Their next scheduled event will be a hike Aug. 9.

Meetings are held every Tuesday evening at the American Legion Hall in Hanoverton.

5 New Polio Cases Reported In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Five more polio cases reported in the past week have raised Ohio's 1959 total to 43, the State Health Department said today. At this point last year, Ohio had 11 cases. In the latest reports, Marion County reported two cases.

SMOKING IS CAUSE

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Alton Ochsner, a New Orleans surgeon lecturing at the post-graduate medical assembly of Texas here, said Tuesday the advance of lung cancer is due entirely to cigarette smoking.
